Stiff U.S. Warning

Red Bombers Still in Cuba

WASHINGTON (AP)—Informed sources reported Monday the Russians continued uncrating and assembling jet bombers in Cuba last week, but may have stopped in the face of a stiff U.S. warning.

... curb nuclear weapons

U.S. aerial surveillance is expected to show within the next day or so whether the Soviets are withdrawing the IL-28 bombers, which can carry nuclear weapons.

U.S. military forces continued to watch Cuba from sea and air, but the defence department maintained an almost complete news blackout on the result of the surveillance.

Sources here said there is some evidence now that the uncrating has come to a standstill, but further surveillance is needed to determine whether the Soviets are going through with the promised withdrawal of the planes.

WANTS THEM OUT
President Kennedy wants the bombers, as well as the medium-range missiles the Russians are dismantling, taken out of Cuba.

The U.S. understanding is that withdrawal of both types of offensive weapons is part of the deal Soviet Premier Khrushchev has agreed to for a settlement of the Cuban crisis.

Informants said that while intelligence reports showed the Russians went ahead with missile dismantling, information reached Washington Saturday indicating the Russians were uncrating and assembling the more than 20 IL-28s estimated to have been shipped to Cuba.

Kennedy was reported to have been highly concerned about this information which, in the U.S. view, indicated Khrushchev might be trying to hedge on his part of the bargain.

Ottawa Stand Clear

By JAMES NELSON

TORONTO (CP)—Prime Minister Diefenbaker reiterated Canada's stand against the spread of nuclear weapons Monday night and said the Cuban crisis demonstrated that close consultation is needed among all Western powers. (See also Page 13.)

He described as "a great advance" the United Nations decision Monday in support of a halt to nuclear testing, and said that Canada had supported the crisis "clearly and unequivocally."

FREEZING

"We stand where freedom stood in the last two weeks," Mr. Diefenbaker declared in a foreign affairs address in which he carefully adhered to his prepared text.

The Cuban crisis brought the world to the brink of war, and made an end to the nuclear arms race imperative. If the world did not take effective steps to curb nuclear weapons, it might not be possible to stop short of war in the next crisis.

"As I look back on the Cuban crisis, I believe that it emphasized more than ever before the need for close consultation among all Western powers."

Triple House Attack Raps Economic Policy

Dynamite Kills Young Couple

HOPE, B.C. (CP)—A 22-year-old miner and his 19-year-old estranged wife were killed Monday when a dynamite charge exploded in the husband's car.

Police said the husband apparently set off the explosion as the couple were talking outside the home of his wife's parents at Silver Creek near this community 100 miles east of Vancouver.

Dead are Albert David Hoffman, whose birthday was Monday, and his wife Jytte.

Married in 1960, they had been separated since Sept. 15. Mrs. Hoffman was living with her parents Mr. and Mrs. Maxwell Peterson.

Mr. Peterson said Hoffman had made repeated attempts at reconciliation.

He made two calls Monday.

On the second call his wife walked to his parked car 15 feet from the house.

A moment later there was a shattering explosion that knocked the Petersons to the floor and blew in the windows of their house.

Police said the husband apparently set off the explosion as the couple were talking outside the home of his wife's parents at Silver Creek near this community 100 miles east of Vancouver.

Get Pennies Out Of Piggy Banks!

VANCOUVER (CP)—The B.C. Retail Merchants Association Monday asked housewives to crack open their piggy banks and get the pennies into circulation.

Secretary Ray Hunt said pennies have been in short supply since Ontario put its 3 per cent sales tax into effect in 1961.

But a Bank of Montreal official, who said that banks are unable to keep up with demands of supplies of pennies, added that the reason for the shortage is simply that the mint has not made enough.

MERGER VOTE STEP CLOSER

Saanich Council Fails Final Snag

A last-ditch attempt to block the December referendum on amalgamation failed in Saanich council last night.

The attempt was made when council was considering the special bylaw providing for the holding of the referendum in conjunction with annual elections Dec. 6.

Main opposition came from Coun. Gregory Cook, who objected to the wording of the question to appear on ballots.

"Are you in favor of amalgamation of the district of Saanich with the city of Victoria?"

BLIND VOTE
Coun. Cook said he thought the wording of the question was not that agreed on originally by council.

"I think the proponents of this scheme should put down their arguments in favor of amalgamation in black and white," he said.

"Putting it to the people in this form is just asking them to vote blind."

PRESSURE GROUP?
"It appears to me Saanich council is being asked to put a referendum to the people as a result of the actions of a pressure group that may or may not have its headquarters outside this municipality," he said.

He said the referendum question should be: "Are you in favor of an investigation of amalgamation between Saanich and Victoria?"

"If the proponents of amalgamation cannot give, for argument's sake, 10 good reasons... if they cannot show that responsible people want this, we should turn it down."

FROM MINUTES

Municipal clerk Gordon Hayward told council the wording of the question was taken from official minutes of the council meeting which decided to hold the referendum.

Reeve Stanley Murphy said that if the referendum is favored by a majority it could lead to a study of the terms of possible amalgamation, which would have to be approved by voters before anything further could be done.

"If we follow Coun. Cook's proposal here you are asking the people to authorize you to make a study. You have that power now."

The bylaw, as prepared, was given preliminary approval by council. Final approval will likely be given at the next meeting of council.

FINAL VOTE

Before council could move on to the next item of business, Coun. Cook got in one more shot.

"If there is no publication of reasons (by proponents of amalgamation) can I take it that there are no valid reasons?" he asked.

"You can take no such thing so far as I am concerned," Reeve Murphy said angrily.

Quake Shakes Oregon

PORTLAND (AP)—A sharp and frightening earthquake shook a wide area of Oregon and Washington Monday night. It was brief and violent, but caused little damage.

There were no known injuries.

Peter Dehlinger, a seismologist at Oregon State University, placed the centre at 10 miles south of Portland.

Prof. Ernest Kaareberg, seismologist at the University of Washington in Seattle, said the quake registered a six on the modified Mercalli scale of 12 on the university's seismograph.

Inherited Fortune Leaves Her Cold

CHICAGO (CP)—Cook County's probate court was puzzled Monday by a 59-year-old woman who just can't be bothered about an inheritance of $160,000.

"I didn't go after this thing," an annoyed Miss Alice Colton said from the witness chair. "They came after me."

"I wasn't hiding from anyone. They could have found me if they had wanted to."

Court-appointed lawyers disagreed about the ease of finding her. They ended a three-year country-wide search for Miss Colton a week ago when she was located in her north side apartment.

Mrs. Alice Hall-Miss Colton's sister-in-law also disagreed. Moments before she had informed the court she believed her sister-in-law was dead.

ALICE COLTON
... 'they came to me'

The court was told Miss Colton had long cut herself off from old friends and relatives and now lives on relief.

Miss Colton's surprise appearance in court was not voluntary.

Edward Arkema, the estate administrator, told the court the woman was so uninterested in the money she had to be subpoenaed.

"She just doesn't want to be bothered," he told reporters.

The $160,000 estate consists almost totally of cash and bonds. It was left by a sister, Mrs. Marie C. Lonergan, who died in 1959.

The hearing was continued to allow time for more investigation.

Aid to India Condemned By Kremlin

India Loses Outpost

NEW DELHI (AP)—India disclosed Monday abandonment of a military post controlling Karakoram Pass, one of the most important positions on its long battle line against the troops of Red China.

The Soviet stand, outlined in a lengthy editorial in the Communist party newspaper Pravda, called for negotiations "without setting any terms."

It made no mention of Indian demands that Chinese forces withdraw from the disputed frontier areas before peace talks begin.

Pravda claimed further conflict along the frontier could only make an eventual solution more difficult, inflict casualties on both sides and adversely affect the international situation.

The party organ claimed the "imperialists" are trying to use the conflict for their own "incendiary purposes."

"They are adding oil to the fire, are persistently offering arms and assistance to one of the sides, attempting thus to increase the scale of the clash."

"It is not accidental that on the part of the ruling circles of the United States and other Western powers, one does not hear appeals for a cease-fire on the Indo-Chinese border," the newspaper said.

Belgrade Scores Red Drive

BELGRADE (Reuters)—Borba, Yugoslavia's official newspaper, said Monday night the crossing by Chinese Communist troops of the McMahon demarcation line with India was "impermissible."

It calls for withdrawal behind this line of all troops so that negotiations may begin.

Americans Today Decide Shape of New Congress

Bitter Campaign Ends to Fix Measure of Kennedy Control Over Senate and House

By HAROLD MORRISON

WASHINGTON (CP)—As the spread of a Cuban crisis, millions of Americans troop to the polls today to decide the shape of the next U.S. Congress and control over 35 states as a slugging, mud-flinging campaign rolls to its end. (See also Page 8.)

Out of the electorate, benumbed by campaign oratory and raucous charges of fraud, fakery and corruption, may come the fate of President Kennedy's power in Congress and the destiny of key political figures who may challenge Kennedy for the White House in 1964.

With dry weather forecast for most of the United States, a heavy turnout of 47,000,000 to 50,000,000 voters is anticipated to ballot for a new 435-seat

House of Representatives; 30 of the 100 Senate seats; 35 of the 50 state governors, and thousands of state offices down to county sheriffs.

Politicians have already made up their minds. They say Republicans will make heavy gains in the governor's battle but will fail to break the Democrats' hold over Congress. But there may be no great change in the political complexion of the House of Representatives and Senate and Kennedy may still have a battle on his hands trying to fight a coalition of southern Democrats and right-wing Republicans.

In the dying hours of campaigning, Republican Richard M. Nixon waged a desperate struggle for political survival in California. Polls indicated Democratic Governor Edmund G. Brown still had the edge in the governor's race. A defeat in California could bring to an end the turbulent career of an man who lost the presidency to Kennedy in 1960 by a hairline margin.

In contrast, Republican Governor Nelson A. Rockefeller, a multi-millionaire with his eye on the White House, is considered likely to sweep to a spectacular victory in New York over Democratic challenger Robert F. Wagner, to retain governorship in the state.

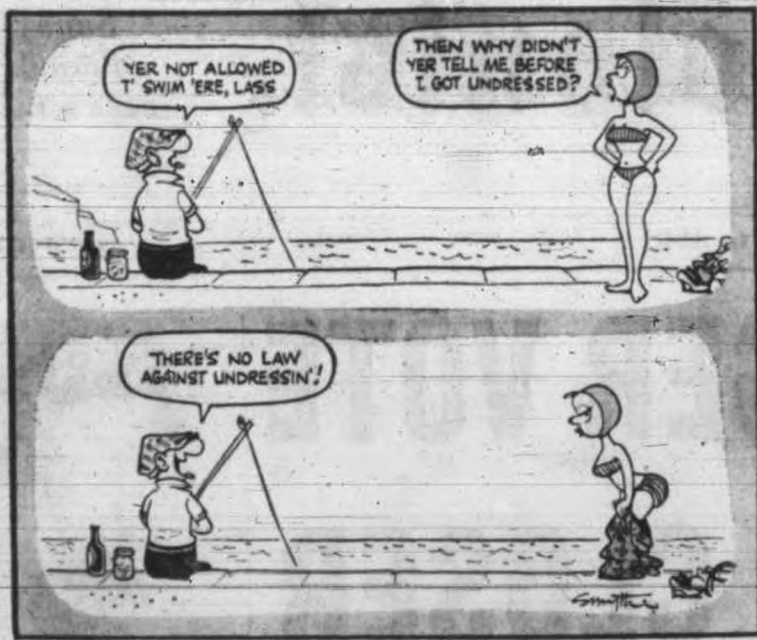

And in Massachusetts, where the Lodges and the Kennedys have been feuding for a half-century, Kennedy's 30-year-old brother, Teddy, a rookie politician, is likely to become the first brother of a president to capture a Senate seat. Pulse-takers rate him a winner over George Cabot Lodge, son of Nixon's running mate in the 1960 presidential campaign.

In the last Congress, before redistribution reduced the House seats to 435 from 437, Democrats were in control 251 to 174, with two vacancies in the House, and 64 to 35 in the Senate. Of the 50 states, Democrats control 34 and the Republicans 16. Up for re-election are 21 Democratic and 14 Republican strongholds.

Congressmen are elected for two years, senators for six years. In some states governors are elected for two years, in others, four.

Collectively, Tops

Ellington Band Rich in Talent

By BERT BINNY

There was an organization rich in musical talent in Victoria last night. Duke Ellington and his band appeared before a good-sized crowd at Memorial Arena.

Collectively they're tops. They can blow long, loud and hot; what's more, they have something to offer to most every musical taste.

ELECTRIFYING

There were 14 of them and, according to pre-concert information, eight were featured soloists. This, however, was a conservative estimate, because soloists other than those mentioned were soon electrifying the audience with virtuoso performances.

Artists like Russell Procope on saxophone or clarinet, Cat Anderson on trumpet or Jimmy Hamilton don't come to town every day and, when they do, it's really something.

OLD TUNES

Leader, composer, arranger and pianist, the Duke himself was in fine form. Tunes most closely associated with him—Mood Indigo, Sophisticated Lady, Birth of the Blues, Satin Doll, It Don't Mean a Thing—were enthusiastically received. In addition, there were items from films and TV shows which featured the Duke's music.

TWO COMFORTS

Artistry apart, two added attractions made this show preferable to the Wilf Carter Show of last month. The Arena was comfortably warm of the session for non-confidence motions. The Progressive Conservative government, with 116 supporters, is outnumbered by the combined opposition—100 Liberals, 30 Social Credit MPs and 19 New Democrats.

(no ice) and nobody tried to peddle anything (no recordings, autographed pictures and so forth). It was all lots of fun.

NEGATIVE

Speaking after the Liberal and Social Credit leaders, T. C. Douglas, New Democratic leader, flicked off the Liberal non-confidence motion as purely negative but gave no indication of his party's views on the Social Credit amendment.

Under Commons rules, Mr. Douglas cannot move a non-confidence motion in this debate but he appealed to the government to take immediate steps to lift the austerity measures in favor of increased government spending, lower taxes to middle-income and low-income earners and higher social security payments.

DUAL CRITICISM

Mr. Pearson prefaced his non-confidence motion with criticism of two aspects of the austerity measures adopted last June 24—tariff surcharges on a wide range of imports and "tight money" arising from high interest rates.

These steps were adopted as short-term measures to get Canada out of a foreign exchange crisis which the government allowed to get out of hand long before the third week in June, he said.

NO SIGN

Parliament had been in session for some weeks but there still was no sign of the long-term measures which the government had promised would get at the basic economic trouble—a slowdown in the rate of economic growth.

Finance Minister Nowlan called the Liberal non-confidence motion "an act of utter political irresponsibility."

NO GOOD

He said it did no good for Canada to call for the end of the tariff surcharges at the very moment that Canadian delegates were discussing the subject in Geneva at a meeting of the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade.

Mr. Pearson declared that the tariff surcharges represent a tax increase of $200,000,

$300,000,000 Saved

Austerity Working

OTTAWA (CP)—Finance Minister Nowlan said Monday night there is "clear evidence" that Canada's monetary situation has improved in the last two months and said the government does not plan to follow policies leading to a fresh devaluation of the Canadian dollar.

Mr. Nowlan also said the austerity program "freezes" on civil service salary increases is under review, but declined to estimate when a policy change might be announced.

He said in the Commons an estimated $225,000,000 in foreign exchange has been saved since the imposition of temporary surcharges on imports under the government's austerity program.

Another $75,000,000 had been saved as a result of measures taken in connection with lower limits for duty-free entry of goods brought into the country by returning tourists.

He singled out the international balance of payments as the most serious problem to be faced, one which would take a long time to solve.

However, unless it was dealt with it would be difficult to achieve other aspects of Canada's economic program.

Until this deficit could be overcome, it would be necessary to depend on the inflow of foreign capital. There had to be higher interest rates in Canada than in the United States or otherwise there would be a capital outflow.

fore the necessity of there being full consultation before any action taken or policies executed between our nations, or as respect of our nations, that might lead to war," he said.

"In the light of this recent experience, it should be made clear that consultation is a prerequisite to joint and contemporaneous action being taken."

AGREED WAYS

The prime minister told the diamond jubilee convention banquet of the Zionist Organization of Canada that the nuclear powers "should seek agreed ways and means to reduce and eliminate nuclear weapons for the armaments of states with adequate guarantees to assure compliance."

"It would not be too extreme to say that the world has been at the brink of war," he said.

"To all who knew how close we were to war, and what war today would mean, it is evident that the nuclear arms race must be halted."

Events of recent days had shown that the free world's security depended on its preparedness and willingness to react firmly to threats. But there could be no long-term security in a balance which could be quickly and menacingly upset.

STABLE PEACE

Soviet actions which precipitated the Cuban crisis showed that the "uneasy equilibrium of armed force which now prevails" must be replaced by international settlements which will give reasonable assurance of a stable peace, he said.

The Liberals seemed more determined to wreck the economy to place themselves in what they thought would be a more favorable political position than they were of doing something to help the country out of its economic troubles.

END TIGHT MONEY

If the economy was in such a serious position as Mr. Pearson claimed, "we cannot stand to have an election at this time," the Social Credit chief said.

However, Mr. Thompson did call for an end to tight money—to loud Liberal applause—then moved on to say that the economic troubles couldn't be corrected by piecemeal methods. The side-effects might be appalling.

Mr. Douglas said he would have rated Mr. Pearson's motion higher if the Liberal leader had proposed constructive measures to replace the austerity program.

"This could be done in the short term by increasing government spending on such things as a second trans-Canada highway, a national power grid, harbor and river improvements, national parks and a tremendously accelerated program of housing which would tackle housing for low-income groups and pensioners."

A second step would be to lower taxes on middle-income and low-income groups which would put hundreds of thousands of dollars in purchasing power into the hands of consumers. The third would be to step up the whole program of social security payments—pensions, family allowance, health insurance.

Current Level of Radioactivity Not Sufficient to Harm Food

By JOSEPH MOLNER, MD

Frankly, I was somewhat hesitant about printing today's letter, for fear of alarming nervous people. Then on second thought, I decided to go ahead on grounds that the whole truth doesn't hurt, and anyway there's no point in coddling ourselves and pushing unpleasant topics into the background.

The letter, from a woman who was graduated from an excellent medical school a decade ago, but now is a housewife and mother, writes:

"We are electing to remove the one constant source of radio-active strontium, etc. from our children's diet with the knowledge that it may be so negligible as to mean nothing, but it may lessen their statistical chances of having blood or bone malignancy 40 or 50 years from now."

"We no longer serve them milk to drink. The occasional cheese, ice cream, and the universal use of milk additives we are ignoring. The children otherwise have a well-balanced diet.—S.M.A."

I'm disturbed to have such a highly-trained person take this attitude. What's been said about radioactive fallout has been overdone—or let's say that it has been over-interpreted.

Members of my staff tell me that if there was a 1,000-fold increase in radioactive fallout, and we lived in it for, oh, maybe 100 years, we might have some ill effects.

Therefore, while it's well for us to know about fallout, I see no logical reason for being so terrified by such a tiny amount.

In any case, why attack milk? There is radioactivity from fallout in meat, in vegetables, in fruit. The reason for the emphasis may be that we have figures on the radioactivity in milk from week to week.

I can't find any reason to worry about the amount of radioactivity in our food. I am particularly upset when this fallout-mania singles out such a valuable food as milk and deprives children of it.

Dear Dr. Molner: I get migraine headaches and have been using an ergot compound with good results, but can't help worrying about after-effects.—E.C.

Continued, frequent use of ergot can predispose to ergotism, or ergot poisoning, but the doses must be large as well as continuous.

With migraines, only a moderate dose is required, and it is intermittent, so you are worrying needlessly.

Dear Dr. Molner: What is "thyroid heart" and should a person with it be allowed to smoke? —M.C.D.

"Thyroid heart" is heart disease caused by an over-active thyroid gland. It causes extreme nervousness, rapid heart beat, shortness of breath. The condition is corrected by treating the thyroid disorder. Smoking should not be allowed. Excessive coffee or other stimulants should be avoided, too.

Belts Rejected
But Not Unsafe

OTTAWA—W. Arch Bryce, executive director of the Canadian Highway Safety Council, said that although some car seat belts don't meet the requirements of the Canadian Standards Association it does not mean they are unsafe.

"Some of them failed because one out of a number of belts submitted for testing revealed that its color was not fast," he said. "Another failed to meet the 4,000-pound force test by one or two per cent, although it did withstand a force considerably greater than it might ever be required to meet."

VANCOUVER—Linda Gibson, fourth-year nursing student from Victoria, is the 1962 University of British Columbia Homecoming Queen. Miss Gibson, who was the engineers' candidate, was crowned at a Homecoming Dance.

NEW YORK—Zsa Zsa Gabor, the breathless blonde from Budapest, showed up a half-hour late to take her fourth husband. He is Herbert Hutner, a 53-year-old industrialist.

A symphony in pink and mint, Zsa Zsa, who lists her age as 37, omitted any promise to obey in a brief ceremony before a State Supreme Court Justice, Basil S. Harbo.

HOLLYWOOD—Ann Ladd told police he shot himself in the chest accidentally when he started after what he thought was a prowler, and stumbled. It was the first time the 69-year-old actor was able to give his account of the incident at his Hidden Valley ranch home.

BOSTON—Suzanne Clift, 21, post-debutante accused of slaying her boy friend in her Beacon Hill apartment a month ago, is pregnant. Her lawyer, Claude E. Cross, made the disclosure after a test was given the niece of movie actor Montgomery Clift.

The U.S. and Canada "have led the world in sound and effective management of ocean fisheries," Allen said.

LAS VEGAS, Nev. — Pro-

GENEVA (Reuters)—The International Red Cross committee agreed tentatively Monday to undertake for one month the inspection of Cuba-bound ships in the first "political" mission in the committee's history.

The committee said it has former president Paul Ruegger of Switzerland to go to New York for talks with U Thant, United Nations acting secretary-general, and representatives of the countries concerned in the Cuban crisis.

CASTRO AGREES

The announcement said the final decision of the committee would depend on the outcome of Ruegger's mission. It said the government of Cuban Premier Castro has agreed to the plan, suggested by the Soviet Union. Although no details of the inspection have been released officially, it is understood the plan calls for a rendezvous between inbound vessels and Red Cross inspection ships.

SWISS OFFICERS

The Red Cross men—probably Swiss army officers—would then make sure the cargoes entering Cuba were limited to legitimate peaceful needs and that offensive materials were banned.

PROCEDURE NOT KNOWN

It was not immediately clear whether the Red Cross inspectors would be stationed aboard United States Navy ships already blockading Cuba or whether special vessels would be chartered by the UN. The Geneva committee learned of Cuba's agreement to the plan through the UN. It said the Red Cross would not accept direct responsibility for the operation, which would remain the responsibility of the UN and the countries concerned.

The committee's normal duties involve purely humanitarian missions such as the care of prisoners of war and prisoner exchanges. The committee stressed that the inspection was "outside the convention and traditional scope of its humanitarian mission."

Cuban Stand
Deplored

TOKYO (UPI)—Two Chinese Communist newspapers warned Monday of a second Munich in Cuba without mentioning Premier Khrushchev by name or referring to his agreement to withdraw Soviet missile bases there.

The editorials were broadcast by the Communist New China news agency, which reported the third day of pro-Cuban mass demonstrations which emphasized the widening ideological breach between the Soviet Union and Communist China.

Cubans Still Loyal

MEXICO CITY (UPI)—Many Cubans would actively support an invasion of the island but a majority still back the regime of Premier Fidel Castro, a Swedish newspaperman said Monday on arrival from Havana.

Sven Oestre of the Stockholm newspaper, Dagens Nyheter, said he was released last Thursday after being under arrest seven days in Havana. Six or seven other foreign correspondents are still detained there, he said.

"Havana during the past weekend, when I was free to move about, gave the impression of a run-down revolution," Oestre said here.

"The fear of a U.S. invasion pervaded the minds of many I talked to, and some whispered they had never favored the Castro revolution," Oestre said. The reporter said that some Cubans now refuse to work because there is so little they can buy with their earnings.

"However," he added, "it is a mistake to think the majority of Cubans do not support Castro, although some diplomats interpreted Castro's last speech as a plea for confidence."

Oestre said he was arrested 10

Nazi Killed Jews
To Bolster Career

COBLENZ, Germany (UPI)—The death sentence passed by Adolf Hitler on European Jewry was read before a hushed war crimes court Monday as evidence in the trial of 12 former Nazis charged with mass murders of Jews and other "enemies" of the Third Reich during the Second World War.

The 12 defendants are accused of killing or taking part in the mass executions of about 70,000 Jews, gypsies and other persons in Nazi-occupied Russia. Hitler's speech of Jan. 30, 1939, was entered as a prosecution exhibit in the war crimes trial here, the biggest since Nuremberg.

The key defendant, former Rhineland-Palatinate state police chief Georg Heuser, earlier told the court he did not hate Jews but killed them to advance his career.

LETTERS to the Editor

To be considered for publication in whole or in part letters must be on subjects of general interest, not more than 200 words in length, and, if signed with a pen-name, must be accompanied by the writer's name and address.

In regard to the article "Civil Defence Springs Into Action—Have a Pamphlet, Keep Calm," written by Charles McDowell, I feel that as secretary of the Victoria-Esquamalt Civil Defence Organization it is about time I "spring into action" in its defence.

The article is utterly untrue in that it actually infers that "civil defence activities may come under voluntary censorship." At no time are the activities or aims of the organization inaccessible to the public. All citizens are invited to do so in touch with us—either by telephone or, preferably, by a call at our office at 1848 Blanshard Street. No one will merely be told to "have a pamphlet—keep calm." They will be welcomed and given all the information they are seeking.

Cuban and Suez Crises

I would like to congratulate you on Mr. Arthur Blakely's excellent article, "Prophetic Utterances," where he so aptly draws attention to the similarity between the Cuban and Suez crises and the flagrant letting down of her allies, Britain and France, by America—at a time when they considered that their vital interests were affected. Very pertinent also was the query as to what would happen if the Panama was endangered—we have seen the result in Cuba! Noteworthy too in the article was the fact, during the Canadian support for America, the "voice crying in the wilderness" was that of Mr. Diefenbaker.

In no way am I a supporter of Russia or Castro, but various facets of American international behavior deserve scrutiny—despite relief that the present crisis appears to be easing. A more recent example than Suez is the American compulsion on Holland to hand over the unfortunate Papuans of New Guinea to foreign domination the Malays of Indonesia.

"Power politics," before the use of the UN, may have served their purpose this time, but their continued use may well lead us to the war which we are trying to avoid.

Secondly, America must realize that if she wants the support of her allies, then she must support them, otherwise sooner or later they will in their turn let her down.

(Major) G. L. BULLOCK,
756 Mountjoy Avenue.

Fly-Fishing Preserve

As reported in the Colonist of Oct. 24, in Outdoors, by Alec Merriman, the Victoria Fish and Game Association are going to request that a portion of the Cowichan River be reserved for the exclusive use of fly fishermen.

To restrict to a certain type of fishing, would, we feel, be catering to a minority group, who it would seem from available reports have no real sound and valid objection to the very popular light tackle spin fishing.

If the aim of this restriction is conservation of fish and better fishing, we suggest closed seasons and more limited catches.

I feel that as the average trout fisherman is confined to weekend fishing and is only able to fish a limited number of times during the year, he should be accorded the privileges of any other group and be allowed to fish in the rivers and lakes of this province in any manner that is at present approved by the fishing regulations.

JOAN M. BANFIELD,
3392 Cardiff Place.

Politicians Lot

A politician's lot, like a policeman's, is not a happy one. For the politician is faced by past, present and future, all at once. A record, an instant, a thread and all three demanding. And to function at all you forget the past, grab the present, claim the future.

There's another similarity to a policeman. You must keep the peace. Provoked a debate, you're antagonistic; preserve the status quo, you're a stand patter. Legislate and you're faulted by an opposition. Failing that, they're unhappy.

With three parties across the floor, you walk a tight-rope. You may survive but your step is wary. It may be your last.

How many would relish such a situation? With your eye on the clock and the national interest, you feel anxious.

SOFIA (Reuters) — Premier Anton Yugov of Bulgaria and Deputy Premier Georgi Tsankov have been removed from all Communist party and government posts for "gross violation of socialist laws." It was announced Monday.

The party's first secretary, Todor Zhivkov, also announced six other dismissals and denunciations in what observers here regarded as a significant victory for Zhivkov over dishard pro-Stalinist party elements.

The Stalinists were believed to have resisted Zhivkov's efforts to introduce a greater degree of liberalism.

Zhivkov, opening the party's eighth annual congress here, said "an atmosphere of fear, mistrust and suspicion prevailed in the party."

Former strongman Premier Vukko Chervenkov, nicknamed

Little Stalin by Russian admirers in Moscow before the Second World War, was expelled completely from the party.

Russia Starts Celebrating Anniversary of Revolution

MOSCOW (UPI) — The Soviet Union last night began a three-day holiday marking the 45th anniversary of the Russian revolution which will be topped by a five-hour civilian and military parade through Red Square tomorrow.

City buildings are decorated with red bunting, pictures of Karl Marx, Friedrich Engels, V. I. Lenin and portraits of Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev and other Soviet leaders.

apan, Isidoro in The Philippines, told a press conference his idea of an ecumenical mass modelled on the last supper probably had earned him "many adversaries, but also many friends."

NOT FULL MEANING

Bishop Duschak, who has spent more than 30 years in The Philippines, said his "experience has shown that the mass for my flock does not by far have the meaning that Christ and the church want it to have."

Speaking in English, the bishop also made the following points:

1. That the priest should face the people during mass.
2. That he was against silence and whispering during services. The priest should speak in a loud voice that all could hear and understand.
3. That since Christ did not speak in Latin, but in Aramaic, the language of his country, the mass should be celebrated in the vernacular.

MR. AND MRS. JEAN VAN DE PUT

Killing Baby Only Solution Says Mother

LIEGE, Belgium (UPI) — A sobbing woman testified in court Monday that she killed her 14-month-old deformed baby because it was "the only solution."

Mrs. Suzanne Colpe Van de Put, 25, nervously biting her lips in the glare of television lights, told the court she poisoned her week-old daughter's milk while faced with "the nagging thought that my child would all its life reproach me for the way I brought it into this world."

An all-male jury began hearing the charge of voluntary homicide against Mrs. Van de Put in a court room jammed with 700 persons. Her husband, mother, sister, and family doctor are accused of conspiracy to commit murder.

Asked if she had killed her baby, the defendant answered weakly: "Yes, I admit it... it was the only solution."

She said she gave her armless baby, Carine, the fatal dose of barbiturates last May 29.

Mrs. Van de Put testified that during her pregnancy she had expected that the baby would be normal and that she prepared clothing and a nursery for it.

U.K. Cuts Tax on Cars

LONDON (CP)—Reginald Maudling, chancellor of the exchequer, slashed the purchase tax on motor cars to 25 per cent from 45 per cent Monday in a move to kick Britain's economy into top gear.

The chancellor, taking part in an economic debate in the House of Commons, said the price of the average car in Britain would be reduced by about one-eighth.

Maudling also announced proposals to stimulate private industrial investment by increasing depreciation allowances for heavy and light engineering firms and boosting allowances for research and development purposes.

What The Marriage Manuals DON'T Say

Did you know that almost every marriage manual written since 200 B.C. has judged women by masculine standards? A forthright article in November Reader's Digest reveals that in all the discussion of marriage and sex some fundamental facts about the relationship between men and women are being overlooked. ## Prosecutor Walks Out After Tiffs

MONTREAL (CP)—Guy Desjardins, chief crown prosecutor, stalked out of court Monday following a series of arguments between himself and lawyers representing three men charged on four counts under the Elections Act.

The sudden move came before Chief Judge Edouard Archambault of criminal court after arrangements apparently had been made for the three men to have preliminary hearing next Friday.

HOT ARGUMENT

The arguments became hotter until Mr. Desjardins, followed by prosecutor Bruno Pateras, walked out of court. In their absence, the chief judge granted speedy trials for Andre Lagarde, chief organizer in Montreal for the Union Nationale party, and for Gaston Archambault, former head of the Quebec Provincial Police homicide squad.

The whole affair stems from the seizure in the CPN Windsor Station last Friday of 4,000 voting slips, said to be addressed to Union Nationale candidates in the Nov. 14 Quebec elections.

Cancer Progress

WINNIPEG (UPI)—A young scientist at the University of Manitoba has made a step toward discovering what causes cancer cells to grow.

University officials said Paul Kenney, 25, had succeeded in growing cancer cells in a combination of beef tea and nucleic acid from yeast. Until now scientists have been able to grow cancer cells in calf serum only.

A spokesman for the microbiology department said the importance of Kenney's discovery was that cancer cells now can be grown in a medium whose composition is understood by scientists.

Two hits, no errors.

Volkswagen is batting a thousand.

Our first car (the 1200) has been on top for a decade.

And now it looks as if our new model (the 1500) will be the rookie of the year.

The immediate success of the Volkswagen 1500 wasn't much of a surprise. (Especially for the 200,000 Canadians who have proven the reliability of "old faithful".) Our reputation for quality, dependability and economy means that you can buy this brand new car with complete confidence.

And the 1500 is a completely new automobile.

For a start, it has two luggage trunks.

One in the back (like a conventional car) and one in the front (like a Volkswagen). We managed this unique feature by designing a flat engine and putting it under the back trunk. It gives the 1500 amazing traction in snow and makes it even better at holding the road.

Take a look at the luxurious interior and you may start to worry about the price. Relax. Everything in sight is standard.

equipment. And that includes seven heater vents, five arm rests, three ash trays, two padded sun visors, one electric clock but no radiator. (We still think it's better to cool a car's engine with air instead of water.)

Visit your Volkswagen dealer soon. He'll let you drive our newest (and most unique) Volkswagen.

Come on down and see two great players in action.

Wives in Spotlight

Neat Ankle May Decide Michigan Governorship

By EVELYN AUGUST

DETROIT (AP)—When Michigan voters elect a governor today, they may well be influenced in their choice by the woman behind the man rather than the man himself.

The two women in the campaign spotlight are Alice Swainson, wife of Democrat John B. Swainson, the Canadian-born present governor, and Lenore Romney, wife of Republican candidate George Romney, former president of American Motors.

Many a male voter may not understand Michigan's tax problems or job crisis, but a pretty smile and a well-turned ankle he does appreciate.

Blonde, shapely Alice Swainson and bubbly Vivacious Lenore Romney have both been making good use of their talents travelling the length and breadth of Michigan campaigning for their husbands. Whether it's party loyalty or just plain curiosity, men and women alike in all parts of the state have flocked to see and hear the wives of the candidates.

Mrs. Swainson, a fragile, classic blonde beauty of 35, dislikes speaking in public, and her short, five-minute talks show it. Emphasizing her role as wife, mother and homemaker, she sidesteps the controversial and makes no attempt to deal with campaign issues.

Mrs. Romney, however, plunges into what she thinks is wrong with Michigan, citing facts and figures she says "are right there on the record for you to see."

KNOWS TRICKS

A former actress who gave up a movie contract to marry a then struggling unknown, Mrs. Romney knows all the tricks of public speaking. She can talk for 15 minutes, a half-hour or more and still not be wanting for words.

She uses no notes while speaking and, unlike Mrs. Swainson, relies little on memorizing, preferring rather to organize her thoughts as she goes along.

Introduced as "the youngest looking grandmother of five you'll ever see," Mrs. Romney, a slender, handsome 52-year-old, pours out words in rapid-fire succession.

An emotional woman, Mrs. Romney has none of the cool reserve, which Mrs. Swainson displays. The governor's wife, perhaps because of her shyness, speaks slowly and deliberately. Her movements are graceful and precise.

Why these women chosen to leave their homes for the rigors of the campaign trail?

REASON

For Mrs. Swainson, the campaign is one of her duties as a wife. "I feel I have to do everything possible to get John elected," she says.

Mrs. Romney, however, says "we're in this because the conditions of our state became so acute—and also because, this is the most important election Michigan has ever had."

Off-Year U.S. Ballot Cuts Voter Numbers

WASHINGTON (CP) — The United States has an estimated 83,462,000 people eligible to vote in today's off-year U.S. congressional elections but only about two-thirds—perhaps less—are expected to use their franchise.

Almost all of the states require that the voter register at some local government office before election day. Fourteen states require that the voter register as being affiliated with a specific political party.

FEWER VOTE

Only about 54,253,000 of those eligible are estimated to have completed registration, and of these, perhaps between 48,000,000 and 52,000,000 may vote.

In 1958, the last off-year congressional elections, the number of eligible voters was estimated at 76,644,000 and the number who voted at 47,875,000.

OFF-YEAR LULL

Usually there are more stay-at-homes in an off-year congressional election than in presidential elections. In contrast to the roughly 82 per cent of the eligible voters who turned out in the 1958 off-year elections, about 81 per cent of the eligibles voted in 1960 when President

Kennedy won over Republican Richard M. Nixon by a small margin.

In Canada, by comparison, 7,686,101—or about 78 per cent—of the estimated 9,800,000 eligible voters cast ballots in the June 18 federal election. In 1958, some 7,279,500—about 79.4 per cent—of the 9,165,000 eligible voters went to the polls.

Old and New On Display At Gallery

Two displays scheduled to open at the Greater Victoria Art Gallery Wednesday will be joined by two others in the official opening.

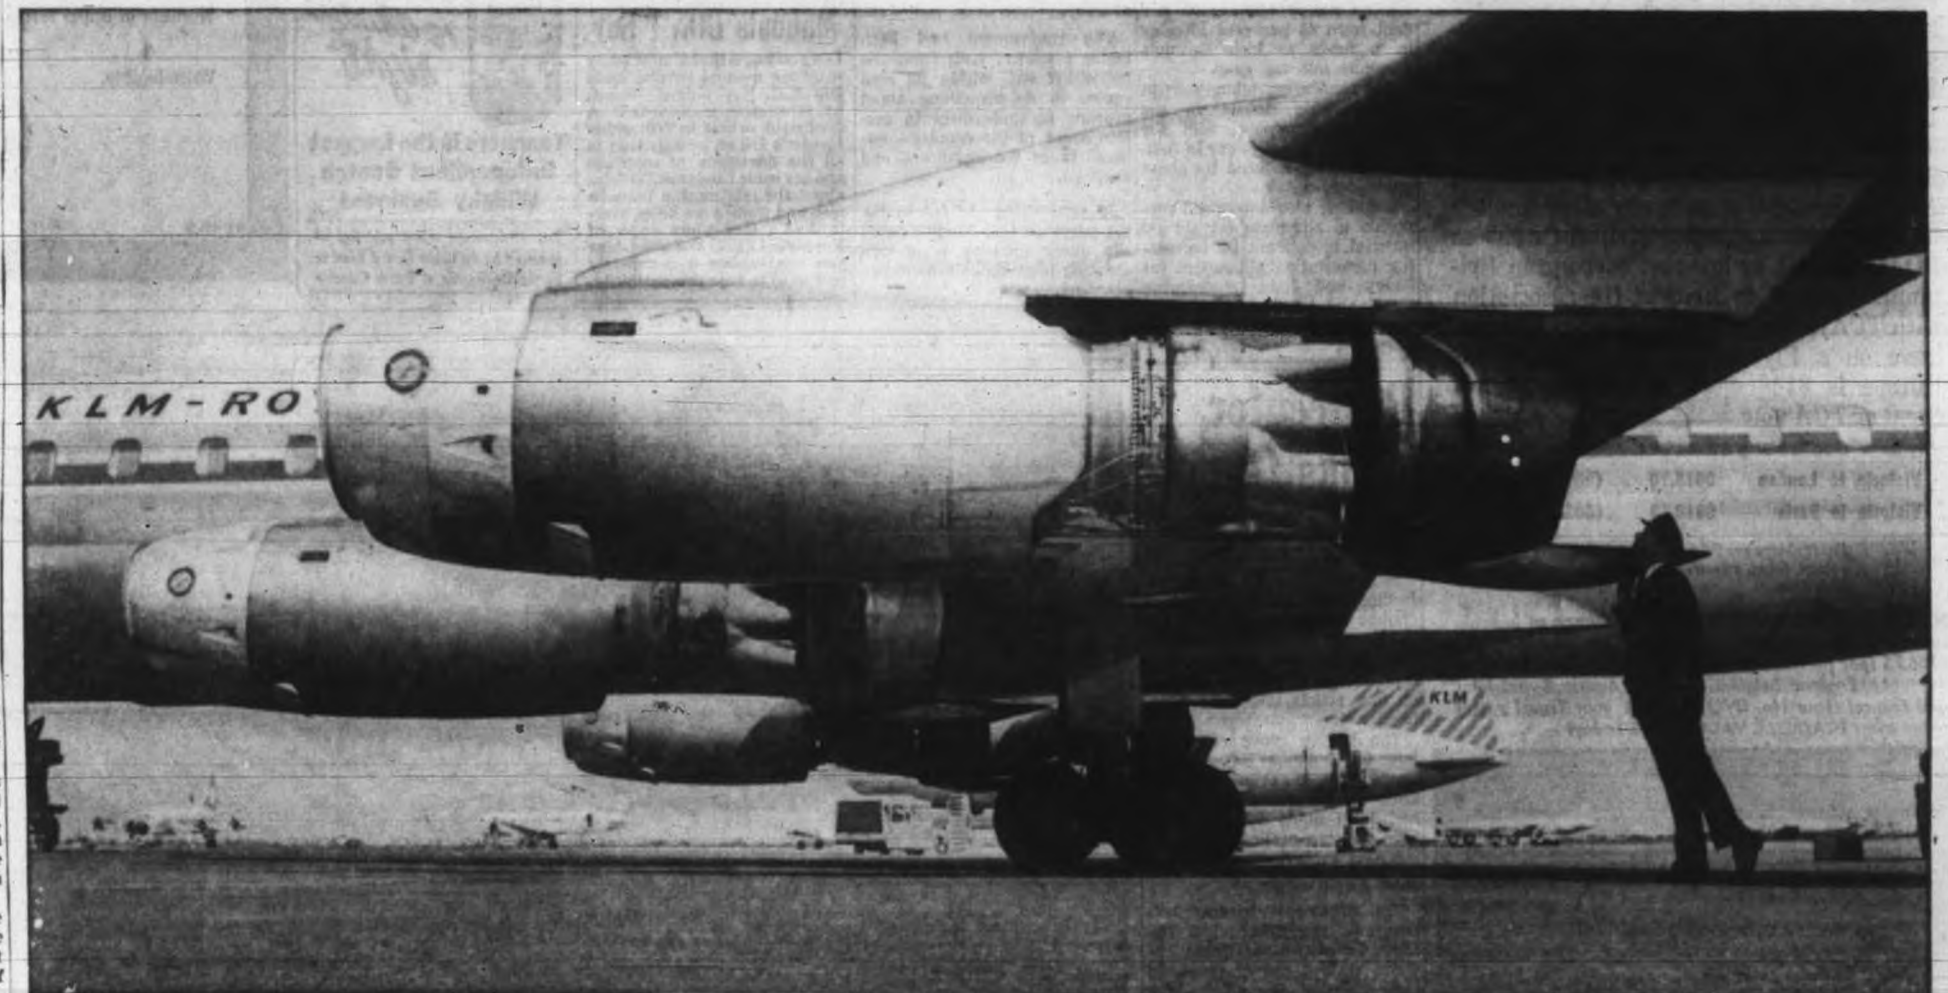

The two displays, "100 Years of the Arts in Victoria" and paintings by Maxwell Bates, RCA, will be displayed with the Civic Centenary Square model and "Oak Bay High Draws Europe."

The last display will feature a number of drawings done by Oak Bay High School art students during a tour of Europe last summer.

The displays will be opened by Mrs. Margaret Harvey, B.C. representative on the Canada Council.

FUEL PROBLEM

Denmark produces only six per cent of her fuel consumption, and fuels account for 12 per cent of total imports.

More than 250 points are covered during the two walk-around inspections and one pre-flight check preceding every KLM DC-8 Jet departure

Before every flight a DC-8 Jet gets two walk-around inspections and one pre-flight check. Read several other facts about the careful, punctual Dutch and the reliability of KLM.

KLM believes in double-checking everything. Before every flight a DC-8 is inspected both by KLM maintenance crew and by the flight engineer who walks around the entire plane to double-check about 60 key points. Including hydraulic fluid, engine intake ducts, tire treads, brake linings, toilets, lights and power for the galley.

1. A KLM DC-8 Jet has 4 American-built Pratt & Whitney Turbo-Jet or Turbo-Fan engines, each producing 17,000 lbs. static thrust or more. KLM has been using Pratt & Whitney engines since 1932.

2. KLM was the first airline to install the Doppler System for long distance automatic navigation in its jet fleet. This system gives a constant picture of where the airplane is at any time. It makes navigation easier and quicker, leaving the crew to keep a careful watch on other instruments.

Captain a Navigator, too

3. Every intercontinental KLM captain has to hold a navigator's license—he can't get his fourth stripe without it.

4. 222 KLM pilots have flown more than 10,000 flying hours.

5. KLM's flight engineers also hold licenses as ground engineers. Try it: A KLM flight engineer is qualified to check on ground maintenance.

6. KLM stewardesses know about the aircraft they fly in. Their training includes lectures on the principles of flying.

Services for Young Travellers

7. Every KLM stewardess takes a special course in baby care during training and loves to look after children during the flight. KLM provides many special services for young travellers.

8. KLM was the first airline ever to carry a special baby menu on board. It helps mothers plan their babies' diets in flight. It also has space for noting individual babies' special needs. On long flights, when flight crews change, this shows the new stewardess the name, age and diet requirements of individual infants already on board.

9. KLM carries two kinds of baby food on board. Dutch baby food is tinned, American baby food is bottled. KLM does this because they know that mothers' preferences for baby food vary. KLM likes to keep everybody happy.

10. The toys junior KLM passengers play with on board are carefully selected. They must appeal to children of many nationalities. They are designed to stimulate quiet play.

11. Every KLM intercontinental flight carries a travel information bag. This is an attached case full of tourist information. There is a set of KLM Tourist Information leaflets, covering 101 countries. There is information on KLM's fleet, a time table, and detailed tourist information about the Netherlands.

KLM's exciting I.T. Winter Programme

12. KLM's 17-day "Sun Sojourn to Israel" offers you a glorious tour to the cradle of the world's great religions and civilizations. This sun-filled trip to Italy, Greece and Israel is actually an air-sea cruise, jetting swift, relaxing flights on KLM DC-8 jets with a 6-day sea cruise through the beautiful Mediterranean. KLM's all-inclusive fare is surprisingly low.

13. KLM's "Mediterranean Highlights" takes you to three countries with rich and contrasting cultures: Italy, Greece and Turkey. You will fly on KLM's DC-8 Jet and cruise the azure-blue waters of the Mediterranean aboard the S.S. San Marco or San Giorgio. A KLM 17-day excursion special, this air-sea vacation is yours at an all-inclusive bargain price. Flights from Montreal or New York.

14. KLM's "Caribbean Island Hop" is a 18-day air-sea cruise to Curacao, Aruba, Jamaica, Costa Rica and Colombia. Next Game: Tuesday-Nanaimo at Esquimalt.

Sunday's series: New Westminster 32, Victoria 4.
Next game: Tonight—Esquimalt vs. Nanaimo, 8 p.m., Esquimalt Sports Centre.

Esquimalt Bruins and Nanaimo, who meet in an Inter-City Junior Hockey League game tonight at the Sports Centre, have one thing in common with Victoria Cougars.

All three are wondering how in blazes anyone is going to stop New Westminster from running away with the league championship.

Royals have played three games, and won all of them in a walk. Cougars were the latest victims, losing 12-4 Sunday at Memorial Arena.

Ivan "The Terrible" Susheski, who scored twice against Nanaimo Saturday night, fired three more against Cougars as Royals built up a 5-1 lead in the first period.

Bill Bowles and Martin Schaeffer each scored twice, and Ray Collingwood, Don Mowrey, Byron McDell, Don Prowal and Don McLean got the others as Royals showed tremendous balance.

Redmen Stun Vamps For 31-Point Lead

Nanaimo Redmen will have a 31-point edge and the advantage of home field Sunday when they meet Victoria Vampires in the second game of the Vancouver Island Junior Canadian football final.

Redmen attained this cosy state of affairs last Sunday at Macdonald Park when they whipped Vamps, 50-19, in the first game of their series to decide which club will play in the Little Grey Cup final against the Manitoba champions Nov. 30.

Repeat Victories At Shuttle Meet

Vancouver's Wayne Macdonnell and Tyna Barrington of Port Angeles won singles titles for the second straight year in the Victoria Lawn Tennis and Badminton Club's invitational badminton tournament Sunday.

Macdonnell, reigning Canadian champion, beat Victoria's Bob Hunt, 15-3, 15-3. Miss Barrington won over Young and Miss Neill, 15-3, 15-3. U.S. junior singles won over Young and Miss Neill, 15-3, 15-3. U.S. junior doubles won over Young and Miss Neill, 15-3, 15-3.

Rematch in Making

NEW YORK (AP) — Floyd Patterson would like to fight the ex-champion had expressed confidence he would regain the title in a return match.

Patterson lost the heavy-weight title to Liston in a first-round knockout in Chicago Sept. 25. Patterson was not immediately available for comment.

Start with Dedication, Build on Chocolates And in Glen Lake You Wind Up a Champion

By JIM TAYLOR

Say you want to build a football team for kids. Say you've got the kids and nothing else—no equipment, no field, and no help in sight. What do you do?

If your name is Mel Housley, you do this:

You start with four or five kids, age 13-16. You get the assistants you need, catching them in the net of your own enthusiasm. Finally, you build Glen Lake Roughriders, out of sweat, toil, and an endless supply of chocolates.

SHARES CREDIT

Mel Housley is 31, dark, and frighteningly modest. The pride shows through when he speaks of his Roughriders, but he constantly points to the men who help at the heart of the organization to George Wilson and Jim Jack, his assistant coaches, and to Harold Banks, who came to run the projector for a football film and stayed on to be president.

But ask these same men who built Glen Lake's bantam football team and they point right back at Housley. This is why:

THE REASONS

When he found boys who wanted to play football, he formed the team last year, and watched it play through a winless season ("We scored a couple of touchdowns, I think"), losing by scores of 42-0 and 10-0. This year, he was back for more.

When his team didn't have a practice field, he wrote to his M.L.A., got the use of a government trailer and turned his own lot into a field. Then he and his coaches put up a floodlight, and built a tackling ramp and five tackling dummies.

"IT TETTERED"

"The first year, I was practically alone," he explained carefully. "It tettered, and we just about went under. Now the team has caught on in the community, and I've got all this wonderful help."

He certainly has. Banks publishes a mimeographed newspaper for the Riders, showing their progress in the Norm Fieldgate Bantam League. The boys are driven to and from three practices a week by two volunteers. Merchants have donated money to help buy equipment. And then there is the matter of the chocolates.

SWEET ACCOUNT

Banks dug out a bank book last night, and showed a balance of $180.21.

"We found out we could make a little money selling chocolates," he explained. "We took a chance and ordered 100 boxes. The boys took them out and sold them like nothing. So we ordered more, and they sold them too."

NEARING GOAL

Boys who want to play football and don't mind working for the privilege have now sold more than 800 boxes to build that bank balance. The season is over, but they're shooting for 1,000, and don't get against them.

People in Glen Lake who knew nothing about football, and could care less, suddenly began to turn up at Luxton Park for games. Suddenly, the Riders had fans, and even cheerleaders.

And what does Housley, with no boy of his own in the league, get out of all this? Why the drive to build a football team out of somebody else's kids?

"You ask that?" he said. "I get everything out of it. When Roughriders still have a long way to go. In the Norm Fieldgate League in which they play with Oak Bay and Victoria, the football is eight-man, and teams can carry 24 players. Riders carried only 17, because there was only equipment for 17.

"Most of the boys played the entire game. Dave Hisbeth, one of our best players, would play fullback, then switch to halfback, then play guard," Housley laughed. "He played them all well, but we could have used more bodies."

The bodies he had were enthusiastic. For the chance to play a four-game season, they started working in late July, practising three times a week.

DAY OF DAYS

Sunday at Carnarvon Park they faced Victoria Trojans, the club that humiliated them, 10-0, one year ago, and beat the city team, 22-17, for the league championship.

For Mel Housley, it was the day of all days.

Running it right and making it work, how could you help but get everything out of it?

First game of the semi-final will be in Calgary on Saturday, the second in Regina on Monday. The Calgary game will start at 1:30 p.m. Victoria will start at 1:30 p.m. Regina game at 6 p.m. Victoria time.

SUDDEN DEATH

COWBOYS THREATEN

Helping the Giants into the conference lead, but also posing a threat of their own, were the Dallas Cowboys. They knocked off Washington Redskins, 38-10, with quarterback Eddie LeBaron and Don Meredith each throwing two touchdowns passes for the winners. Results left the Cowboys only a half game out of second place.

Sunday's series: Saskatchewan 6 at B.C. Lions 25.

VANCOUVER — B.C. Lions left a solid promise of better things for the future on Sunday when they closed out the Western Football Conference schedule with a solid 28-8 win over Saskatchewan Roughriders.

Result kept the Riders from finishing second and the Lions from finishing last. But while the fourth-place finish for the B.C. club was disappointing, the 1962 final left the 30,498 fans who braved a downpour which never let up during the game highly optimistic that the Lions are at last a contending football club.

YOUNG VETERAN

Much of the evidence was wrapped up in the performance of Joe Kapp, a husky quarterback completing his fourth conference season and still only 23 years old.

Kapp completed the season without re-injuring the knee which put his career in the doubtful category, and he gained stature as a quarterback as well as a passer as the season wore along.

He was at his best Sunday as he set a new conference passing record although playing less than three quarters as the Lions gave rookie Mel Melin a chance to gain some experience.

NEEDED GOOD DAY

Kapp started the game with exactly 3,000 yards from passing this season and needed the formidable total of 276 yards to surpass the mark of 3,275 yards set by Frank Tripucka while playing for the Riders in 1956.

Kapp got 134 yards in the first quarter. But he got 85 yards on a touchdown play with Sonny Homer late in the quarter. He was still more than 20 yards short when coach Dave Skirion sent him in with about three minutes left in the fourth quarter.

He hit Ron Howell for 14 yards, then Willie Fleming for 13 for a game total of 279 yards, just three yards more than he needed.

Boys Enjoy Class

Why Cook? It's Fun And He Needn't Wed

By MIKE GADSBY

There are many likely reasons why a boy wants to learn to cook but when it comes right down to it the main one is that it's just plain fun.

RUDIMENTS FIRST

Dick Metcalf, an ex-navy cook with eight years experience on the high seas gets together on Fridays with boys and a kitchen at the Boys' Club of Victoria to teach them the rudiments of the fine art of cooking.

What they produced is somewhat less than a gastronomical delight, but the fun they had in preparing it makes it all worthwhile.

The boys got their start in a modest way Friday night—with a pan of hot biscuits. But from the pleased looks on their faces, their flour-covered clothes and the stack of dirty dishes, it might as well have been a three-tiered wedding cake.

Mr. Metcalf says they'll graduate to apple turnovers next week and before they're finished they should have a wide range of recipes under control.

GOOD REASONS

A group of 20 in the 10, 11 and 12-year-old class, will eventually take the cooking course under four instructors.

The boys' reasons for taking the class range from not wanting to get married to always having something to eat, which are pretty fair reasons at that. But these were all forgotten in a haze of dough, baking powder, flour and fun.

That Ain't Hay

Bank Site Rich in History

By DON MATHESON

Bales of hay to bales of money — that's the rags to riches saga of an ancient building at 727 Johnson.

Once a livery stable, the 70-year-old building will soon be the temporary home of the main Victoria branch of the Bank of Nova Scotia.

The bank will operate from the premises while its own building at Douglas and Yates undergoes an estimated $250,000 face-lifting, expansion and complete interior renovation.

Work is expected to take 18 months after tenders are called within four to six months.

Some 35 feet of frontage on Douglas, now owned by the bank, will provide the space for expansion, and main entrance of the remodelled premises will be moved from Douglas to Yates.

Meanwhile, back at the . . . er . . . temporary premises, last vestiges of the livery stable operation will disappear under another remodelling.

Bits of harness can still be seen on beams, and leather handles and bit-rings still open some doors. Traces of the old hay-lift are still visible.

But before the bank moves in under a lease negotiated by Vic Williams and Frank Whitfield of Frank Martin Agencies, modernity will take over. Full facilities, including a vault, will be installed in the old building, latterly the Olympic storage garage.

In its first heyday, the "downtown" stables and livery storage were owned by Dr. A. J. Garesche, whose widow still lives at 1155 Fairfield.

Tellers' stalls, er . . . wickets will occupy space once reserved for prancing carriage horses.

Just as a final touch of history, the grease pit used in the garage operation was once the place where the "stable police" pushed the daily sweepings from the livery floor.

Saanich Council Forced To Review Sign Bylaw

Pressure from councillors concerned over the stringency of Saanich's sign bylaw last night forced council to appoint a special committee to review the regulations.

Coun. Robert Ostler, Hugh Curtis, Gregory Crook and Joseph Casey out-voted Reeve Stanley Murphy and Coun. Harold Todd and Robert Chard.

RACE BUSINESSMAN

The four councillors defeated a move to reject a complaint from a Cadboro Bay businessman that he needed some relaxation of the sign bylaw, carried a motion by Coun. Casey to appoint the special committee and had the businessman's complaint held over for the time being.

Adopted by Saanich council in August, 1960, the bylaw outlawed many existing signs. Owners of these signs, which did not conform with the sign regulations, were given until August, 1963, to alter them.

OPENS ATTACK

When the businessman's complaint was read to council, Coun. Curtis opened the attack.

"You might as well get used to this," he said referring to the deadline of August next year. "It is just the beginning."

JUST REVENING

"It is just the beginning of a big outcry from merchants of this municipality who will realize the sign bylaw will make it almost impossible for a businessman to make a decent living."

Coun. Casey: "Coun. Curtis has echoed what I said right from the start."

Coun. Curtis: "I feel very strongly about this sign bylaw. It is wrong. It needs to be taken apart and put back together properly."

ONE OF TOUGHEST

Coun. Crook: "What I am interested in now is how we can defend the bylaw when the signs have to come down. I am not suggesting this municipality should operate without restrictions on signs. This is one of the toughest sign bylaws in Canada."

Reeve Murphy suggested council members should look at the 700 block Yates Street where the south side has only three signs and the north side has a multitude of signs.

An attempt by Coun. Chard to have the review of the sign bylaw carried out by the lands and planning committee was defeated.

Thieves Grab Propeller

Some big-thinking thugs with expensive taste — and probably some heavy lifting equipment — have made off with a 300-pound brass ship's propeller valued at $675.

The theft—which took place in McKay Cormack Shipyard some time last month—was reported to city police yesterday.

In Oak Bay Building Bylaw To Be Studied

A uniform building bylaw for Greater Victoria is to be scrutinized by a committee of Oak Bay council—despite suggestions that the move is an insult to paid municipal officials.

Oak Bay council last night voted to refer to its zoning and development planning committee a uniform bylaw drawn up by employees of the four Greater Victoria municipalities and other experts.

Reeve George Muriach said the committee would be meddling in matters best left to technical experts. "There's too much administration going on in this municipality and too little policymaking, which is the proper business of council," he said.

Coun. J. D. Watts expressed appreciation for the work of the municipal employees but said there were matters of policy in the recommendation which differed from present Oak Bay policy—notably scale of fees and regulations allowing frame multiple-family dwellings, now banned in the municipality.

Signs forbidding parking at certain times on the south side of Cadboro Bay Road between Foul Bay Road and Bowker are to be removed for the time being.

At Port Alberni

Mac-Powell Case Off Till Nov. 20

PORT ALBERNI — MacMillan, Bloedel & Powell River Ltd. and Local 1-85, International Woodworkers of America, locked in a court action over a one-week stoppage at Somena division here, have agreed to an adjournment until 10 a.m. Nov. 20.

NO CHARGES

Information on charges and counter-charges were laid before Magistrate W. E. MacLeod in magistrate's court here Monday morning, but the charges were not read. Maurice Corbell, Local 1-85 financial secretary, represented the union, and local solicitor George Bodovinec, the company. No pleas were entered.

Oak Bay Council voted to approve a finance committee recommendation that funds for construction of parking bays on the south side of the road be considered in next year's estimates.

Without the parking bays, council felt that the no parking signs, aimed at creating two lines of eastbound traffic during the afternoon rush hours, were unenforceable and unfair to merchants.

Purchase of $5,300 worth of equipment for an Oak Bay civil defence truck was approved and referred to its finance committee.

This was the first request the municipality's civil defence organization, new this year, has made for funds in excess of its annual grant.

CONCRETE FORDS

Council also referred to the civil defence committee two suggestions from Coun. J. D. Watts.

He suggested fords be constructed by putting concrete slabs in rivers near bridges, in case the bridges were destroyed by disaster, and suggested provincial camping areas could be equipped to receive evacuees from urban areas by installation of fallout shelters and storage places.

Divers Bring History To Surface

VANCOUVER (CP)—Shipdivers have pulled a two-ton chunk of history out of Vancouver harbor.

The three amateur divers discovered half of the drive shaft of the paddlewheel steamer, the first steamboat on the British Columbia coast more than 100 years ago.

Fred Rogers, 65, Cedric Butler, 46, and Eddie Seaton, 43, donated the shaft to the maritime museum in Vancouver.

Like Almost Everyone Judges May Join Italian Strike Craze

ROME (AP)—The robed judges of Italy's courts began Monday to go on a three-day strike starting Nov. 23.

Almost everyone else has been on strike in Italy for one reason or another, including doctors, nurses and trainmen. But this would be the first walkout for the nation's justices.

The strike, approved by the directors of the National Association of Magistrates, was ordered to protest two things—slowness of the government in modernizing cumbersome legal machinery and the disparity in judges' pay and economic condition in the booming post-war prosperity.

Canada's Nuclear Ban Supported

By JOSEPH MacDWEEN

UNITED NATIONS (CP)—A demand that all nuclear tests be halted by Jan. 1 was overwhelmingly approved by the political committee of the United Nations General Assembly Monday—but all nuclear powers abstained from a yes or no stand.

The committee endorsed a Canadian-proposed plan for an outright prohibition on tests in the atmosphere, in outer space and in the oceans if no comprehensive agreement is reached, rights for an international scientific commission.

The Canadian idea was incorporated as an amendment in a resolution sponsored by 37 non-nuclear countries—a measure approved without a dissenting vote by a ballot of 81 for, none against and 23 abstentions.

Two Concerts Attractive Performances

By BERT BINNY

The second pair of Victoria Symphony concerts at the Royal Theatre yesterday evening and Sunday afternoon provided a decidedly mixed program.

MAINTAIN ENCHANTMENT

Two of the items, Weber's Oberon overture and Dvorak's Symphony No. 5, from the New World, have been accorded and accepted affairs since 1826 and 1893 respectively. There seems small doubt but that their long lives of 126 and 69 years would be largely due to their having had something to say musically and further, to their having said it clearly and enchantingly.

Park Ducks Targets For Hunter

Peace and stillness around Beacon Hill Park were shattered at 7:20 a.m. Sunday when five shots rang out.

City police headed for the deer pen, thinking the animals were in trouble.

They later found that someone had been duck-hunting in the park. A park employee saw a blue and cream station wagon with a rack on top pull away from the area.

Tourist Trade Unity Convention Goal

Unity in the tourist industry will be the goal of Victoria delegates to a triple-barrelled convention in Vancouver this week.

Members of the Auto Courts and Resorts Association of B.C., the B.C. Hotels Association and the B.C. division of the Canadian Restaurant Association are holding a combined convention Monday through Wednesday.

It is the first combined convention of all three groups in Canada.

Herbert Plasterer, president of the Southern Vancouver

Island Auto Courts and Resorts Association, and Stanley Booker, president of the Victoria branch of the Canadian Restaurant Association, said in interviews that segments of the Vancouver Island tourist industry must co-operate in external publicity of the Island.

Both also said unity is becoming more desirable because of the growing number of establishments providing both food and accommodation.

"We should at least be working together even if we can't get fully hooked up," Mr. Booker said last night.

Police Halt Carload Of Hoods

When police answered a call Saturday night to check up on a man seen wearing a hood over his head, all they found was a late Halloween reveler.

In answer to a call from the 1200 block Bay, police went out a call warning investigating residents to see caution when approaching a driver seen wearing the hood.

They discovered a group of hood-costumed youths on their way to a late Halloween party.

Have Shoe, Won't Travel

Police Seek Cinderella To Try Him for Size

City detectives are looking for a male Cinderella, but it is doubtful what kind of reward he will get when they find him.

The man kicked in the front door of a barber shop at Macmillan's Hotel and Restaurant, 617 Gorge, about 2:30 a.m. Sunday, grabbed a lot of loot and fled, leaving one shoe behind.

Taken in the raid were two electric hair clippers worth $70, a small bank containing $7 in dimes, a pink table radio worth about $15, six packages of razor blades, six combs and a large bottle of hair cream.

City detectives have the man's shoe.

Traffic Expert Off to Chicago

El Cid Worth Long Wait

By BERT BINNY

It was certainly worth waiting for.

El Cid, the spectacular film now showing at the Royal Theatre, was delayed a week in getting here. But now, safely ensconced at least until Nov. 15, it is quite an experience to see. It was SRO Saturday night with 1,800 people turned away.

Not always from the acting viewpoint, however. Charlton Heston, as El Cid, is thoroughly acceptable and, in the second half of the show, a lot more than that. He ages skillfully; he mellows to just the right degree; he doesn't rely exclusively on the make-up department to convey the effect upon him of passing years.

But the highly-touted Miss

Sophia Loren as Chimene is far from impressive. She pulls a reverse switch on Galatea who changed from a statue into a human being. Miss

India Lacks Arms Cash

NEW DELHI (AP) — Finance Minister Morarji Desai

said Saturday India lacks the cash to pay for foreign weapons needed to fight the Communist Chinese and deferred payment would place a heavy burden on future economic development.

Desai was interviewed shortly before the first U.S. arms began arriving in India.

Loren spends all kinds of time just staring. Admittedly, she loosens up a trifle after a pleasant night in a barn with Mr. Heston but, pretty soon, she's back to the virtually expressionless gaze which goes on and on and on. It's all meant to indicate smouldering, inward passion. As far as this writer is concerned it does nothing of the sort! It indicates Miss Loren is highly paid for doing extremely little.

Amid a lot of good playing in the supporting parts, Genevieve Page as Urraca and Douglas Wilmer as Moutamin give outstanding performance.

Nevertheless, El Cid scores decisively with its scenic magnificence. The story, is old, skimpy and familiar to everyone; the dialogue is a mon-ment to economy. But the color, costume, scenery and massive action make up for everything—even Sophia. Each succeeding battle, for instance, makes its predecessor look like a Sunday school treat.

Courts, castles and palaces are sumptuous to the point where they have to be seen to be believed. Furthermore, all this is authentic and, therefore, El Cid has academic as well as entertainment value. Finally, skilled photography, employing all the latest techniques, enhances these values even further.

El Cid has shortcomings in certain departments—true, but it has so much to recommend it elsewhere that the opportunity to take it in before Thursday week should not be let slip.

NICKEL IN WORLD MARKETS...JOBS FOR CANADIANS

How Canadian Nickel helps irrigate 1000 sq. miles of Australia

The multi-million dollar Snowy Mountain Scheme will irrigate a thousand square miles of previously unproductive land in south eastern Australia. And nickel alloys will help, just as they do in similar projects in other parts of the world. Why nickel? Because nickel alloys provide strength and corrosion resistance for conduit shafts and other vital equipment. The growth of nickel markets at home and abroad helps strengthen Canada's economy and helps provide more jobs for Canadians.

Fallout Factors

Arena Studied as Shelter

City engineer James Garbett will soon begin a detailed study of suitability of several large buildings in Victoria to serve as fallout shelters.

Topping the list is Memorial Arena, which has many of the requirements that afford good protection from radioactive fallout, the engineer said.

PROTECTION

The shield of the building helps protect occupants from fallout which drops upon it from above. There is added protection in areas below the concrete bleachers.

But to meet shelter requirements the arena must also provide adequate shielding from fallout that comes from the surrounding area. Adjacent buildings help in this respect and the arena has none of any size.

The final assessment must be made by calculations based on materials used in the building as well as its size, shape and location.

Last fall, Mr. Garbett attended a training course at Arruprior civil defence college covering "shielding analysis techniques" used in determining if structures would make good fallout shelters.

OTHERS LATER

It is likely that other large buildings in the city, possibly large churches and department stores, will also be covered in the survey. But the arena will be done first and results should be known in a few weeks, a spokesman said.

RCAF Dakotas Leave for India

OTTAWA (CP) — The RCAF will fly six Dakota aircraft to India as part of the Canadian government's military assistance in India's border war with Communist China, Prime Minister Diefenbaker announced Monday.

The planes start leaving Trenton, Ont., at noon today. Only 167 Norwegians emigrated to Canada in 1961 compared to 353 in 1960 and 1,317 in 1959.

Chrysler Art Show Best Yet

OTTAWA (UPI) — The controversial Chrysler art collection headed back to the United States Monday after a "highly successful" five-week stay at Canada's National Gallery.

A gallery spokesman said the 187-piece "controversial century" collection was "one of the most popular we've ever displayed."

Attendance at the exhibition, above average from its Sept. 23 opening, took a sharp upturn last month following suggestions that the $3,000,000 collection might include some fakes.

Adenauer Survives

BONN (Reuters) — West German Chancellor Adenauer's coalition government Monday night survived the political crisis resulting from the Spiegel affair, but at the cost of two top officials in the defence and justice departments.

The 66-year-old chancellor and leaders of the Free Democratic Party, junior partners with Adenauer's Christian Democratic Union in the coalition, spent four hours Monday discussing the crisis, in which the Free Democrats threatened to resign unless they received a satisfactory explanation of the government's reason for prosecution against the weekly magazine Der Spiegel (The Mirror).

A communique announced the coalition would continue but Walter Straus, justice ministry secretary would be fired and Volkmann, defence ministry secretary, go on leave until further notice.

The announcement also said Justice Minister Wolfgang Stammberger would stay in office. He offered his resignation because he was not consulted before action was taken to arrest the chiefs of the news magazine, which is charged with disclosing military secrets and bribing government officials.

Premier Confident He'll Get Peace Cash

Premier Bennett said yesterday he has "no doubt at all" that B.C. can get the money required for Peace River power development.

The only questions in his mind are whether financing should be done in Canada or the U.S., when and at what interest rate, the premier said.

Mr. Bennett announced yesterday that he will leave Nov. 17 or 18 to spend three or four days in New York laying the groundwork for financing of the Peace project. Deputy finance minister G. S. Bryson will go with him.

Mr. Bennett said the principal purpose of his trip was to complete a long-term loan for Arguing with a policeman cost Robert E. Smart, 2936 Quadra, a $50 fine in city police court yesterday.

He was charged with disturbing the peace, after a constable was called to the Melrose Cafe, 622 Yates, where several youths were alleged to have refused to pay for their meals.

Court was told that Smart told the constable city police were like the "getapo," and that his loud shouts attracted a crowd.

San Francisco
Air Control
To Be Studied

Air pollution control in the San Francisco area will be studied by Ald. Geoffrey Edgelow.

He leaves today on a business trip to the California city, but will take time out to study the smoke problem there in search of new ideas and techniques which can be applied in Victoria.

"Industry is not the only offender," said Ald. Edgelow. "Burning waste of all kinds adds to the problem of air pollution. And the bigger a city gets, the more cars it has and so more fumes and waste is let loose into the air we breathe."

Ald. Edgelow, chairman of the city's smoke advisory committee, stated that new controls on burning of garbage in incinerators may be imposed. These are a source of soot and fly-ash, he said.

MILLS BLAMED

The brunt of criticism for the smoke nuisance has been borne by mills in the area which burn wood waste. The city has tightened its regulations and mill operators are co-operating by installing new equipment and keeping closer watch on combustion in the burners.

Any other use for the wood waste would be "a natural development for this area," said Ald. Edgelow. But so far none has been found which is economic on a large scale.

He said some California cities have installed plants which turn garbage into a compost-type fertilizer for agricultural and garden use. This has also been done with wood waste, though not on such a large scale as would be required here.

"B.C. Forest Products alone burns 850 tons of wood waste every day," said Ald. Edgelow.

Means of utilizing garbage into fertilizer by biological process was carefully studied by the city engineer's department along with other disposal methods some five years ago. It was proven to be uneconomic for Victoria, he said.

Saanich Man Demoted
For Leaving Dynamite

A Saanich employee responsible for leaving live blasting caps and dynamite found by children in Layritz Park last week has been demoted and the Workmen's Compensation Board has been asked to carry out a full-scale investigation.

This was reported to Saanich council last night by engineer Neville Life.

Council unanimously endorsed his actions.

Mr. Life reported the employee, a certified blaster, had attempted to set off a number of "shots" at once and only eight fired. He attempted to fire the remainder individually but failed to fire them all and left the park without satisfying a work supervisor of the situation.

FOUND AT NOON

Meanwhile, findings of Saanich police in the case have been placed in the hands of the Saanich works department.

The explosives were discovered about noon Saturday by a group of children playing in the park.

One lad, Donald Shepherd, 10, of 1280 Glyn, bashed at one of the caps with a rock while Rusty, 7, and Kelly, 5, sons of Mr. and Mrs. James Lockhart, 1275 Glyn, looked on.

Police found one stick and two capped half-sticks of dynamite and 12 live wires running into holes under a pile of already blasted rock.

Police Chief W. A. Pearson said last night any action taken on the matter would come out of a meeting between police and the municipal engineer some time today.

Duke Misses Boat

Better Late
Than Never

By DON MATHESON

Edward Kennedy Ellington—the "Duke"—missed a ferry and almost a concert last night.

He was scheduled to lead his 14-piece band in Victoria Memorial Arena starting at 8:30 p.m. (See review Page 2.)

TWENTY-MINUTES LATE

First strains of the famed Ellington music wafted into the quarter-filled hall at 8:50 p.m. . . . without the "Duke" and with trumpet Ray Nance setting the beat.

Heavy applause greeted the first numbers, but all was silent afterwards until the band struck up again.

AUDIENCE RESTLESS

First shout of "Where's the Duke?" came from a voice in the audience at 9:04 p.m. And again at 9:07.

A slightly mud-spattered Chrysler Royal pulled up behind the arena at 9:15 and the "Duke," his familiar baggy-eyed features solemn, stepped out.

IN STREET CLOTHES

A quick hair comb, and three minutes later he was on stage. Handmen were tuxedos, the Duke a brown tweed.

A minute later the familiar Ellington piano led off another number.

Bandman and baritone saxophonist Harry Garney drove the Ellington car from Seattle.

SLIGHT MISADVENTURE

A slight misadventure, he offered. "It was a little awkward to the ferry than I thought."

Worried band manager Al Kelley suggested the last word. "Tell 'em he appeared after a half hour—that's what they usually do anyway."

Travelogue Today

A travelogue on the Maritime provinces will be shown by W. C. O'Leary, of Esquimalt High School, at the school at 8 p.m. today. The school band will play several selections.

STAFF NOTEBOOK

He May Never Know
What He Didn't WinBy Ted
Shackleford

SO SOLLY: We have it on very good authority that when the King Fisherman draw was held the other day to find out who had won that eight-day, all-expenses-paid trip to Japan which was the major prize, the first name drawn was that of a man who is not a Canadian subscriber. As this is one of the conditions of the contest, his name was discarded and the name was discarded and the name was discarded.

Worried band manager Al Kelley suggested the last word. "Tell 'em he appeared after a half hour—that's what they usually do anyway."

It will hit workers in industry but contends that it will have a lot greater effect on white collar workers with file clerks and others in similar jobs being hardest hit. Yarrows Wins
New Contract

Yarrows Ltd., among the world's leading experts in the construction of large size barges, has won another important contract worth $300,000.

Managing director John Wallace said yesterday his firm had been given the order to build five chip barges for the Vancouver firm of Straits Trading.

Work has already started on the job, and the five barges are due for completion by the end of the year.

Mr. Wallace said the hulls would be of steel and the superstructure of wood. Each barge will be 165 feet long, 41 feet broad and 10½ feet deep.

They will carry on with routine duties but only short overnight leaves were granted the crews.

For Remembrance

Austerity Hits Services

Federal austerity measures will affect this year's Remembrance Day services in a small way, an army spokesman said last night.

Instead of the traditional two guns firing the salute at the Chisway and two at the Esquimalt Memorial Park, there will only be one firing at Esquimalt and another round at 11:02.

The same procedure is scheduled in Esquimalt.

Two additional bands will be in the Victoria parade from the 5th Independent Medium Battery, and the pipe band of the Canadian-Scottish Regiment.

In addition there will be the drums and bugles from the Infantry and 250 militia men will form up at the Black Ball ferry slip and march on the Cenotaph at 10:45 a.m.

The RCAF band from Edmonton will lead the parade in Victoria. Seventy-two navy personnel will participate.

A 165-millimetre gun howitzer will fire one round at 11:02 a.m. to indicate the beginning of the 18-minute silence and another round at 11:02.

The same procedure is scheduled in Esquimalt.

Two additional bands will be in the Victoria parade from the 5th Independent Medium Battery, and the pipe band of the Canadian-Scottish Regiment.

In addition there will be the drums and bugles from the Infantry and 250 militia men will form up at the Black Ball

The Esquimalt service also begins at 11 a.m. and the parade will include one platoon from HMCS Nanaimo, and two platoons from the naval reserve division HMCS Malahat.

Oak Bay services will start at 2:45 p.m. at the Oak Bay Memorial on Beach Drive, with the navy contributing a color party and a bugler.

Saanich services are scheduled for 2:30 p.m. at the Gore Memorial Park, corner of Shellbourne and Cedar Hill Cross Road. One platoon from HMCS Nanaimo, 35 men from the P.P.C.I. an air force band and others will form the parade.

The 250 militia men will come from six units—the 5th

Independent Medium Battery, the 5th Area Signal Platoon, the 4 APIS Intelligence Company, the Canadian-Scottish Regiment, the 155 Company Royal Canadian Army Service Corps and the 5th Technical Squadron RCME.

Members of the Canadian Women's Army Corps will also participate.

In Langford the service will start at 11 a.m. opposite the Langford Legion Hall.

Bride Carries Golden Leaves

Bouquets of Tallman roses decorated St. Andrew's Cathedral for the recent marriage of Jo Ann, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. Longbottom, 3888 Swan Lake Road, and Wesley Morhart, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Morhart, 930 Fairfield Road. Father M. T. O'Connell heard the marriage vows.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length gown of silk taffeta and Alencon lace that swept back to a cathedral train. Seed pearls and opalescent sequins enhanced the basque bodice which featured cap sleeves. A coronet of seed pearls held her finger-tip veil. She carried Tallman roses, white feathered chrysanthemums and golden leaves.

Bridesmatron, Mrs. M. Sadler and bridesmaids, Miss Teresa Leggett and Miss Nancy Mann wore belted, knee-length green taffeta dresses and toning feather and net whimsies. They carried bronze chrysanthemums mounted on white Oriental fans.

A green sash highlighted the white nylon frock worn by flower girl, Miss Sherry Robinson.

Ed Morhart was best man. Ushers were Ron Longbottom and Howard Sadler.

Yellow candles and bronze chrysanthemums decorated the tables for the 200 guests at a reception held in Holyrood House, Howard Langdon proposed the toast.

Leaving for a honeymoon in Washington the bride donned a dark brown, three-piece knit suit.

The couple will live at 529 Selkirk Street.

Your Problems

By Ann Landers

Dear Ann Landers: My sister and I are having a double wedding in three months. We are both marrying local fellows from large families. The problem is I don't want any children at the wedding or the dinner because we can have only a limited number of guests.

My sister says our fiancés will be hurt if they can't have their nieces and nephews present. She points out that they are all well behaved. I say children don't belong at an evening wedding—well behaved or not.

How do we let the parents know that children are not included in the invitation? We don't want to start off married life with our relatives sore at us. Please, Ann, instruct us on how to handle this delicate situation.—CLEVELAND TROUBLES.

Dear Cleveland: This is one of the touchiest of all problems and I can tell you right now you're not going to please everybody. A double wedding automatically kites the guest list by one-third. Your fiancés should take this into consideration.

The best solution is to give a party for the young children a week or two before the wedding. Make it clear to the mothers

What every wife should know about her husband!

Like most married women you probably hesitate to talk to your husband about his life insurance. You dread thinking of existing without him. Yet, much as you hate to think of it, you probably know a number of young widows who have a real problem maintaining a home and bringing up their children.

Perhaps he is aware of your reluctance to talk about life insurance—and hesitates to bring up the subject.

You owe it to yourself and to your children to discuss with your husband what his present life insurance programme would provide in income to raise your family. Further, what his permanent personal policies would be worth in case of emergencies.

We suggest you and your husband enlist the friendly and helpful advice of The Excelsior Life representative in your neighbourhood—who was selected and trained to help people with problems such as yours to plan their own "Blueprint for Security".

Garden Notes

Care of Philodendron

By M. V. CHESNUT, FRHS

I had a note last week from one of my readers asking how to care for a Philodendron--she had bought a rooted slip at a church bazaar, and all she knew was its name. I found this letter extraordinarily difficult to answer, for there are well over 350 different kinds of Philodendron, differing widely in their size, shape and habit of growth. Some are vines, some grow as smallish trees, rather like a rubber plant, and some make a rosette-type plant with exotic, tropical foliage.

The two most commonly grown are Philodendron cordatum and P. pertusum. The first is the Heart-leaf Philodendron, a grand little house-plant vine of the easiest possible culture, most effective when given a moss-covered stake or support on which to clamber.

The second is the well-known Cut-leaf Philodendron, sometimes called Mexican Bread Fruit and Swiss Cheese Plant, presumably because of the holes formed naturally in the deeply cut leaves. The slits and holes in the huge leaves--up to 3 feet across--are provisioned in rich soil--are nature's provision to help them withstand tropical hurricanes without tearing, just as those advertising banners stretched across the street have holes punched in them to let the wind through.

The plant gets its name from two Greek words: Philo, meaning love, and dendron, meaning tree--a tree-loving plant. This doesn't mean they are true parasites, like orchids and mistletoe, living on the sap and tissues of the host tree.

The Philodendrons need more than air and water for survival--unlike the parasites, they must have soil too. In their native South American jungle, their earth roots are firmly anchored in the leafmould and rotted organic matter around the base of the tree, while the cord-like aerial roots seek out blown soil and rotting debris in the crochets and bark crevices of the host. This gives us a hint as to what kind of soil they like.

Obviously, it should be rich in organic matter, and if you have any old rotted and flaky leafmould, this is ideal for the organic component; if not, ordinary peat moss makes a satisfactory substitute. Use two parts of this, together with one part good garden loam soil and one part coarse sand. A little flake charcoal can be added to advantage to keep the soil sweet, about a tablespoonful to the pot, plus a teaspoonful of bone meal for its nutrient content.

Good drainage is very important. Strangely enough, while trails of Heart-leaf Philodendron will root themselves and grow quite happily in a jar of water, they become most unhappy in constantly soggy soil. To secure this free draining, I put a good inch of gravel or bits of broken flower pot in the bottom of the pot or planter.

I don't think it is a good thing to make a regular routine of watering your Philodendron. Daily dribbles keep the soil sodden, and the plant does much better when the pot is allowed to dry out a little between waterings, permitting air to enter the soil mixture. If you use a moss-stick as a support for your vine, moisten the moss whenever you water the soil.

Your Philodendron of either type will live, after a fashion, in the darkest part of your living room, but for glowing health it should be given a spot where it gets plenty of light but not direct sunlight. Early morning or late afternoon sun won't hurt it, but a south window at noon is a bit too much for this jungle-dweller.

California Big Riddle

Of all the elections that will be decided today perhaps the most important and surely the most bewildering is the race for the governorship of California. There are people who claim to understand it. We would envy them except that we don't believe them for a minute.

Our theory is that nobody understands California politics. The Californians don't. They say a lot of wild things out there, but it is significant that the old residents--those who have been there two years or more--never say that they understand their own politics.

Visitors are the ones who keep getting hit in the head by wisdom where California politics is concerned. These innocents include eastern political writers, pundits and poll-takers. They have been milling around in California for months, getting lost on the freeways, interviewing one another in aquariums, whatever they are, and sending out dispatches that sound like they were composed at a seance in Disneyland.

Some of the experts are picking Governor Brown, and others either Richard Nixon, and others either don't know or have disappeared without a trace in the confusion.

We wouldn't be surprised if either candidate swamped the other. How can anyone guess, much less predict?

California has 17,000,000 residents and gets 650,000 new ones every year. Are the migrants of the last few years registered? Do they care? What astrologer do they go to?

Bear in mind that there are more astrologers in California than in all the other states combined.

On the other hand, there are more astronomers in California than in the other states.

California leads the nation in headbump readers, dark-glasses wearers and almost every recognized kind of quackery. California also leads the nation in Nobel Prize winners with 26 at last count. Of all the money that the federal government spent for research and development last year, it spent 41 per cent of it in California.

Governor Brown and Mr. Nixon are running on almost identical platforms, but the campaigns are in the hands of public relations experts, and you would think this was a race between George Washington and Oliver Hardy, or Mr. Clean and stomach acid.

In California the winning reputations of political men are not taken as seriously as the winning reputations of public relations firms. The impact of Hollywood on California politics has been greater than the impact of revival-meeting oratory on southern politics or urban minority machinery on northeastern politics.

Political machinery and party discipline are not important parts of California politics. It is a politics of clubs, societies, symbols, causes and mystiques. It is a politics in which an organization called "Veterinarians for Nixon" actually exists and may have influence upon the vote.

Disparaging California politics is easy until you remember that California office-holders have built just about the best school system in the country, that two out of three youngsters can go to college free, that the state builds more than half a billion dollars worth of freeways a year and balances the budget, and that the individual tax burden is (at least by one accounting) 31 among the states.

Our only point is that you cannot rationally forecast the outcome of an election in never-never land.

Play Costly to Quinn

LET'S TALK

By Rudolf Flesch

I've been looking through the new one-volume edition of The Viking Book of Poetry of the English-Speaking World, a collection of 1,300 British and American poems from the 7th century to the present.

This is one of the world's great bargains. For anyone able to get enjoyment from a work of art, a $7.95 collection of the most glorious poems in our language is a treasure. To match it in the field of music or fine art, you'd have to have a vast collection of records or prints costing hundreds of dol-

HOLLYWOOD (NANA)--Tony Quinn's tax man just told him that he is losing $22,500 a week starting on Broadway in Techni-Tech. The tax expert advised him to sell his beautiful house in New York's east 70's. Tony signed for five months with the play and then he will either do The Visit with Ingrid Bergman or To Kill a Mouse on Sunday with Fred Zinnemann.

Van Johnson wants to co-star with Judy Holiday in Hot Spot. His come to the stage is somewhat stronger, but Van could leave it at any time. This is because all the principals took a cut in salary to keep the show going.

I must have heard Billy Rose wrong when we were discussing The Fanny Brice Story. We talked about Judy to portray Fanny and I assumed it was Holiday. Perhaps he meant Judy Garland. Well, that's not a bad idea.

So much boozing all of a sudden, in pictures and plays! Uta Hagen never stops in Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf? and Margaret Leighton and Anthony Quinn are on a nonstop bender in Techni-Tech. . . And you haven't seen drinking in a movie until you see Jack Lemmon and Lee Remick putting it away in Days of Wine and Roses.

Shirley Booth, in New York for a week of playgoing, tells her chums she is enjoying her Hazel TV series to the point where she doesn't know when she will be able to do another play. Life can be beautiful in Hollywood with all that lovely $5,000 a week plus part ownership of the show.

Hayley Mills would have been great in The Chalk Garden, but the movie version of the play has been postponed, indefinitely.

Walter Wanger and Joe Mankiewicz, both fired from Cleopatra, were and for all I know, still are, planning to make Justice together. But where will they find someone kind enough or stupid enough to give them $35,000,000 to make it?

I've heard of stars getting 50 per cent of their pictures, but Cary Grant gets 75 per cent of That Touch of Mink and it probably will make $15,000,000. That's why Cary could afford to give wife Betsy all of his Charade loot in settling their divorce.

She...Liked It Not

Upon the Death of Sir Albert Merton's, Wilt, by Sir Henry Wootton (1568-1638):
He first deceased; she for a little tried
To live without him, liked it not, and died.
Grace for a Child, by Robert Herrick (1591-1634):
Here a little child I stand,
Heaving up my either hand;
Cold as paddocks though they be,
Here I lift them up to Thee,
For a benison to fall
On our meat, and on us all.
Amen.

The OM Woman, by Joseph Campbell (1894-1987):
As a white candle
In a holy place,
So is the beauty
Of an aged face.
As the spent radiance
Of the winter sun,
So is a woman
With her travail done.
Her brood gone from her,
And her thoughts as still
As the waters
Under a ruined mill.

Canadian Girl Dies in Climb

GLACIER, Wash. (AP)—Bad weather frustrated attempts Monday to recover the body of a young Canadian woman who died after a fall on Mount Baker Saturday.

Rescuers found the body of Joan Huckell, 27, of Toronto, early Monday buried under eight inches of snow at about the 7,000-foot level on the 10,750-foot peak. She had been staying in Vancouver.

A radioed report from the scene on the northeast flank in the Twin Portals area, said the weather was so bad the body could not be brought out immediately. The spot was marked so the body could be recovered later.

The rescue group said it would try to work its way back to Camp Kaiser, about seven miles from the end of the road and remain there until conditions improved.

Word of the tragedy was brought out early Sunday by the victim's climbing companion, Hans Jorritsma. His home town was not known.

Constable Elects Jury Trial

RCMP Marine Const. Malcolm J. La Freniere, charged with dangerous driving after an inquest in which he was blamed for the traffic death of a woman Sept. 15, yesterday elected trial by judge and jury. He appeared before Magistrate William Ostler in Esquimalt police court yesterday. A preliminary hearing was set for Nov. 26.

Magistrate Ostler approved an application for withdrawal of the original charge against La Freniere, and a new charge was read which included the entire wording of the section relating to the charge.

In the same court, three former dockyard employees who stole 700 pounds of copper wire from the navy were each fined $100.

They were William Tucker, 810 Ellery; Lucien Vaast, 3273 Wicklow, and Cecil Proudlove, Dunedin.

The wire was smuggled out of HMC Dockyard on two separate occasions. For the first offence, the men received a suspended sentence and were released on their own recognizance in the sum of $250 for six months. The $140 fine was for the second offence.

Also in Esquimalt court, Ralph Anderson, 747 Haliburton, elected trial by magistrate and pleaded not guilty to a charge of stealing copper wire from HMC Dockyard. The case was adjourned to Nov. 19 for trial.

A young PPCLI soldier, Melvin William Smith, found loitering on the rear stairs of an Esquimalt home, received a suspended sentence in Esquimalt court and was released in his own recognizance in the sum of $250 for six months.

In city police court, a minor was fined $20 for being in possession of liquor.

Price of $2,225,000 Set on Golf Course

VAN COUVER — Canadian Pacific Monday put a firm price of $2,225,000 for park purposes on the 61 acres of old Shaughnessy Golf Course, after lengthy negotiations with the mayor's committee appointed to secure a price. The terms are cash payable on or before March 1, 1963.

J. N. Fraigne, Canadian Pacific regional vice-president and general manager, said the price was reached in an attempt to meet the views of the city's negotiators and is below the $2,500,000 to $3,000,000 earlier suggested by the company.

With regard to Langara, Mr. Fraigne said Canadian Pacific does not intend to sell that property at this time.

Non-Union Employee Gets Beating

VANCOUVER (CP)—A non-union employee reporting for work at a Vancouver water heater factory was attacked Monday in the third instance of violence since union employees walked off their jobs two weeks ago.

Police said a dozen men took part in the attack. The employee was hit on the back of the head with a pipe, his clothing was torn and two windows were smashed in his car, but he was not severely injured. Five police officers were called in and there were no further incidents as about 100 demonstrators paraded in front of the plant, saying they were "keeping an eye on the scabs."

The strike at the Allied Engineering Company plant began after demands from Local 1 of the Marine Workers' and "Boilermakers' Union (CLC) for a 15 per cent wage increase was rejected.

One of the earlier incidents led to the arrest of Tom Clark, an official of the International Woodworkers of America (CLC), who was remanded in court Monday on a charge of public mischief.

Ottawa Stand Clear

By JAMES NELSON

TORONTO (CP)—Prime Minister Diefenbaker reiterated Canada's stand against the spread of nuclear weapons Monday night and said the Cuban crisis demonstrated that close consultation is needed among all Western powers.

He described as "a great advance" the United Nations declaration Monday in support of a halt to nuclear testing, and said that Canada had supported the crisis "clearly and unequivocally."

FREEDOM

"We stood where freedom stood in the last two weeks," Mr. Diefenbaker declared in a foreign affairs address in which he carefully adhered to his prepared text.

The Cuban crisis brought the world to the brink of war, and made an end to the nuclear arms race imperative. If the world did not take effective steps to curb nuclear weapons, it might not be possible to stop short of war in the next crisis.

"As I look back on the Cuban crisis, I believe that it emphasized more than ever before

Get Pennies Out Of Piggy Banks!

VANCOUVER (CP)—The B.C. Retail Merchants Association Monday asked housewives to crack open their piggy banks and get the pennies into circulation.

Secretly Roy Hunt said pennies have been in short supply since Ontario put its 3 per cent sales tax into effect in 1961.

But a Bank of Montreal official, who said that banks are unable to keep up with demands of supplies of pennies, added that the reason for the shortage is simply that the mint has not made enough.

Dynamite Kills Young Couple

HOPE, B.C. (CP)—A 23-year-old miner and his 18-year-old estranged wife were killed Monday when a dynamite charge exploded in the husband's car.

Police said the husband apparently set off the explosion as the couple were talking outside the home of his wife's parents at Silver Creek near his community 100 miles east of Vancouver.

Dead are Albert David Hoffman, whose birthday was Monday, and his wife Jytte. Married in 1959, they had been separated since Sept. 15. Mrs. Hoffman was living with her parents Mr. and Mrs. Maxwell Peterson.

Mr. Peterson said Hoffman had made repeated attempts at reconciliation.

OTTAWA (CP)—Leaders of the three opposition parties in the Commons launched attacks on the minority government's domestic economic policies Monday but apparently failed to find common ground in proposing two non-confidence motions. Voting on them is scheduled tonight.

Liberal Leader Pearson called for an immediate end to the tariff surcharges, and "tight money" conditions imposed last June to combat a foreign exchange crisis.

But Mr. Pearson's non-confidence motion embodying this appeal was rejected by Social Credit Leader Thompson who moved his own non-confidence motion which urged replacement of the austerity measures by a policy of "debt-free money" and "constructive proposals for tax reform to foster a balanced domestic economy and a balanced international trade."

The motions came as the Commons entered a two-day supply debate which marked the second major opportunity

MERGER VOTE STEP CLOSER

Saanich Council Fails Final Snag

A last-ditch attempt to block the December referendum on amalgamation failed at Saanich council meeting last night.

"I think the proponents of this scheme should put down their arguments in favor of amalgamation in black and white."

BLIND VOTE

"Putting it to the people in this form is just asking them to vote blind."

The attempt was made when council was considering the special bylaw providing for the holding of the referendum in conjunction with annual elections Dec. 8.

OBJECTIONS TO WORDING

Main opposition came from Coun. Gregory Cook, who objected to the wording of the question to appear on ballots.

"Are you in favor of amalgamation of the district of Saanich with the city of Victoria?"

Coun. Cook said he thought the wording of the question was not that agreed on originally by council.

PREPARE GROUP?

"It appears to me Saanich council is being asked to put a referendum to the people as a result of the actions of a pressure group that may or may not have its headquarters outside this municipality," he said.

He said the referendum question should be: "Are you in favor of an investigation of amalgamation between Saanich and Victoria?"

"If the proponents of amalgamation cannot give, for argument's sake, 10 good reasons... if they cannot show that responsible people want this, we should turn it down."

FROM MINUTES

Municipal clerk Gordon Hayward told council the wording of the question was taken from official minutes of the council meeting which decided to hold the referendum.

Reeve Stanley Murphy said that if the referendum is favored by a majority it could lead to a study of the terms of possible amalgamation, which would have to be approved by voters before anything further could be done.

"If we follow Coun. Cook's proposal here you are asking the people to authorize you to make a study. You have that power now."

The bylaw, as prepared, was given preliminary approval by council. Final approval will likely be given at the next meeting of council.

FINAL VOLLEY

Before council could move on to the next item of business, Coun. Cook got in one more shot.

"If there is no publication of reasons (by proponents of amalgamation) can I take it that there are no valid reasons?" he asked.

"You can take no such thing so far as I am concerned," Reeve Murphy said angrily.

ALICE COLTON
... 'they came to me'

Inherited Fortune Leaves Her Cold

CHICAGO (CP)—Cook County's probate court was puzzled Monday by a 50-year-old woman who just can't be bothered about an inheritance of $160,000.

"I didn't go after this thing," an amazed Miss Alice Colton said from the witness chair. "They came after me."

"I wasn't hiding from anyone. They could have found me if they had wanted to."

Court-appointed lawyers disagreed about the ease of finding her. They ended a three-year country-wide search for Miss Colton a week ago when she was located in her north side apartment.

Mrs. Alice Hall-Miss Colton's sister-in-law—also disagreed. Moments before she had informed the court she believed her sister-in-law was dead.

The court was told Miss Colton had long cut herself off from old friends and relatives and now lives on relief.

Miss Colton's surprise appearance in court was not voluntary.

Edward Arkenia, the estate administrator, told the court the woman was an uninterested in the money she had to be subpoenaed.

"She just doesn't want to be bothered," he told reporters.

The $160,000 estate consists almost totally of cash and bonds. It was left by a sister, Mrs. Marie C. Lumergan, who died in 1959.

The hearing was continued to allow time for more investigation.

Aid to India Condemned By Kremlin

India Loses Outpost

NEW DELHI (AP)—India disclosed Monday abandonment of a military post controlling Kachakoram Pass, one of the most important positions on its long battle line against the troops of Red China.

Belgrade Scores Red Drive

BELGRADE (Reuters)—Borba, Yugoslavia's official newspaper, said Monday night the crossing by Chinese Communist troops of the McMahon demarcation line with India was "impermissible."

It calls for withdrawal behind this line of all troops so that negotiations may begin.

MOSCOW (UPI)—The Soviet Union last night condemned Western "arms deliveries" to India and renewed its call for a speedy cease-fire in the Sino-Indian border dispute.

The Soviet stand, outlined in a lengthy editorial in the Communist party newspaper Pravda, called for negotiations "without setting any terms."

It made no mention of Indian demands that Chinese forces withdraw from the disputed frontier areas before peace talks begin.

Pravda claimed further conflict along the frontier could only make an eventual solution more difficult, inflict calamities on both sides and adversely affect the international situation.

The party organ claimed the "imperialists" are trying to use the conflict for their own "incendiary purposes."

"They are adding oil to the fire, are persistently offering arms and assistance to one of the sides, expecting this to increase the scale of the clash."

"It is not accidental that on the part of the ruling circles of the United States and other Western powers, one does not hear appeals for a cease-fire on the Indo-Chinese border," the newspaper said.

Americans Today Decide Shape of New Congress

Bitter Campaign Ends to Fix Measure of Kennedy Control

By HAROLD MURKIN

WASHINGTON (CP)—Amid the spread of a Cuban arm, millions of Americans troop to the polls today to decide the shape of the next U.S. Congress and control over 35 states as a slugging, mud-flinging campaign rolls to an end. (See also Page 3.)

Out of the electorate, humbled by campaign oratory and vicious charges of fraud, bribery and corruption, now come the fate of President Kennedy's power in Congress and the destiny of key political figures who may challenge Kennedy for the White House in 1964.

With dry weather forecast for most of the United States, a heavy turnout of 47,000,000 to 50,000,000 voters is anticipated to ballot for a new 435-seat

House of Representatives, 93 of the 100 Senate seats, 25 of the 50 state governors, and thousands of state officers down to county sheriffs.

Pollsters have already made up their minds. They say Republicans will make heavy gains in the governors' battle but will fail to break the Democrats' hold over Congress. But there may be no great change in the political complexion of the House of Representatives and Senate and Kennedy may still have a battle on his hands trying to fight a coalition of southern Democrats and right-wing Republicans.

In the dying hours of campaigning, Republican Richard M. Nixon waged a desperate struggle for political survival in California. Polls indicated Democratic Governor Edmund G. Brown still had the edge in the governor's race. A defeat in California could bring to an end the turbulent career of the man who lost the presidency to Kennedy in 1960 by a hairline margin.

In contrast, Republican Governor Nelson A. Rockefeller, a multi-millionaire with his eye on the White House, is considered likely to sweep to a spectacular victory in New York over Democratic challenger Robert Morgenthau, to retain governorship in the state.

And in Massachusetts, where the Lurgies and the Kennedys have been feuding for a half-century, Kennedy's 38-year-old brother, Teddy, a rambunctious politician, is likely to become the first brother of a president to capture a Senate seat. Pulse-takers rate him a winner over George Cabot Lodge, son of the 1960 presidential campaign.

In the last Congress, before redistribution reduced the House seats to 435 from 437, Democrats were in control 261 to 174, with two vacancies in the House, and 64 to 35 in the Senate. Of the 50 states, Democrats control 34 and the Republicans 16. Up for reelection are 21 Democrats and 14 Republican strongholds.

Congressmen are elected for two years, senators for six years. In some states governors are elected for two years, in others, four.

Start with Dedication, Build on Chocolates And in Glen Lake You Wind Up a Champion

By JIM TAYLOR

Say you want to build a football team for kids. Say you've got the kids and nothing else—no equipment, no field, and no help in sight. What do you do?

If your name is Mel Housley, you do this.

You start with four or five kids, age 13-16. You get the assistants you need, catching them in the net of your own enthusiasm. Finally, you build Glen Lake Roughriders, out of sweat, toil—and an endless supply of chocolates.

SHAKES CREDIT

Mel Housley is 34, dark, and frighteningly modest. The pride shines through when he speaks of his Roughriders, but he constantly points to the men who help as the heart of the organization.

George Wilson and Jim Jack, his assistant coaches, and Harold Banks, who came to run the projector for a football film and stayed on to be president.

Football Fans to Get Complete TV Service

Vancouver Island football fans who can bring in Channel 8 on their television sets will get the chance to watch all Western Conference playoff games.

It was announced yesterday that all games in the two-game, total-point semi-final between Saskatchewan Roughriders and Calgary Stampeders and the best-of-three final between the survivor and Winnipeg Blue Bombers would be telecast over the CTV network.

FIRST ON SATURDAY

First game of the semi-final will be in Calgary on Saturday, the second in Regina on Monday. The Calgary game will start at 1:30 p.m. Victoria time, the Regina game at 6 p.m. Victoria time.

First game of the final will be held at the home park of the winner of the semi-final series on Saturday, Nov. 17.

In the Eastern Conference, Ottawa Rough Riders and Montreal Alouettes will meet in a sudden-death semi-final at Ottawa Saturday. The winner will then play Hamilton Tiger-Cats in a two-game, total-point final with the first game in either Ottawa or Montreal on Nov. 17 and the second in

COWBOYS THREATEN

Helping the Giants into the conference lead, but also posing a threat of their own, were the Dallas Cowboys. They knocked off Washington Redskins, 38-10, with quarterback Eddie LeBaron and Don Meredith each throwing two touchdowns passes for the winners. Results left the Cowboys only a half game out of second place.

In the Western Conference, Green Bay Packers just continued to march on despite having to play again without Paul Hornung and use Boyd Dowler, their fine end, only for punting. Fullback Jim Taylor scored four touchdowns as the Packers, who have given up only 61 points in eight games, rolled in their 16th straight win, 38-7, over Chicago Bears.

Nanaimo Damage $3,000

Car Smashups Mar Wet Island Weekend

NANAIMO — Heavy rains, planting on the Wall Street road and crashed into some trees near the side of the road. Some $300 damage was done to Paugh's car, and he was treated for minor injuries.

Another collision on Nicol Street resulted in the appearance in court Monday of Walter McNamee of Cedar, who was fined $50 by Magistrate Lionel Bevan-Potts on a charge of driving without due care and attention. He crashed into one parked car, then lost all control of his vehicle, which swung around and hit another car. Some $1,000 damage was done to the three cars.

Panel to Meet

Junior College Talks Slated

NANAIMO — A decision on the feasibility of establishing a junior college in Nanaimo will come a step nearer on Nov. 28, when a public meeting and discussion of the matter will take place.

Waldie Menion, chairman of the Nanaimo school board, announced Monday that a panel discussion is scheduled. Panelists will be Dr. Dennis Smith, of the UBC faculty; Richard Reeve, member of the Victoria school board and member of the provincial committee studying junior colleges; trustee Harold Godfrey of the Nanaimo school board, and Dr. Bert Wales, director of adult education for the Vancouver school board.

Trustees of Nanaimo school board No. 69 will present their annual report at this meeting, and in so doing will establish a precedent. Such action has been customary in the past only in the rural area.

Jaycee Drive Planned

Up-Island Jaycee groups are expected to help Nanaimo Jaycees collect used clothing for shipment to the Philippines.

Eighty-five members of Junior Chambers of Commerce from throughout Vancouver Island Sunday expressed support for the Nanaimo Jaycee project. They were attending a Jaycee Island regional meeting at a lodge near Nanaimo.

Victoria Jaycees are not expected to give the project more than moral support this year because they already collect used clothes for Goodwill Industries.

PAVEMENT BLAMED

A collision at the intersection of Newell Drive and Highway No. 19 caused damage of $800 to cars owned by Beatrice Temple of Victoria and William Turner of Campbell River. In this case, slippery pavement was to blame.

John P. Cox of Vancouver drove his car into a power pole near the fountain at Terminal and Nicol, causing damage of $110, and James Napier of Nanaimo, drove off the road into an embankment and did $120 damage. The total figure for accident damage for this area over the weekend was about $3,000.

NANAIMO — After a delay of three days due to fog, an aircraft from Cassidair Air Services left Nanaimo airport Monday carrying a man suffering the aftermaths of a stroke.

Allan Hardy of Edmonton was taken ill while on a visit to his daughter and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. A. Boudreau of Nanaimo. Mr. Hardy was sent back to Edmonton.

Celebration Cancelled

Hi-Jinks Douse Bonfire Plans

NANAIMO — The traditional Guy Fawkes Day bonfire at nearby "Harewood" has been cancelled because of the behavior of some youngsters attending last year's celebrations.

Fireworks displays and bonfires are expected to be held in the Nanaimo area under private auspices, however.

Sale of fireworks is legal in the area until Nov. 5, five days longer than in most areas of the province.

DUNCAN — War veterans and members of the Cowichan Branch, Canadian Legion, will assemble Sunday at the old Legion building at 10:45 a.m. to take part in the annual Remembrance Day service at the Cenotaph.

The parade will be under command of Legion president Max Ayres and the pipe band under the direction of John Low.

The Cowichan branch chaplain, Rev. W. E. Greenhalgh will be in charge of the service, assisted by other clergymen of the district. The ladies' auxiliary will serve refreshments following the parade.

NANAIMO — Local Jaycees will urge fewer restrictions on the sales of pop and candy at Gyro Park. Such sales are restricted to corner stores in the area.

The Jaycees decided no New Year's Eve party will be held this year. Dallas Square will again have its Jaycee Christmas tree. Mindy Maye will supply the tree and lights will probably be obtained from the city hall.

ALBERNI — A former Alberni alderman and a resident of this area for over half a century, Joseph Skipsy, died Sunday night in West Coast General Hospital.

Mr. Skipsy was born in Newcastle, England, 73 years ago. He came to Alberni in 1910. For the past 22 years he had operated a cash and door factory here. He was a member of the council from 1943 to 1950.

He leaves his wife, Gwen, and two children at home.

Lethargy Draws Ire

NANAIMO — Attendance of only a dozen members at a North Oyster ratepayers meeting at the weekend drew sharp criticism from the association executive.

The meeting decided, provisionally, that the usual Christmas party for the children of the district will not be held this year, "because of the evident unwillingness of members generally to accept a share of responsibility for the work involved."

Payment of membership fees in the Vancouver Island Ratepayers Association was approved, after a report had been given of the recent VIRA meeting. Members were unanimously of the opinion that the activities of the Island association fully justified support by the North Oyster association.

NANAIMO — County court Judge Arnold Hanna handed citizenship papers to 17 new Canadians at a ceremony in the court house. They were congratulated and welcomed into the community by the on behalf of the ministerial association.

Yarrows Wins
New Contract

Yarrows Ltd., among the world's leading experts in the construction of large size barges, has won another important contract worth $500,000.

Managing director John Wallace said yesterday his firm had been given the order to build five chip barges for the Vancouver firm of Struts Towing.

Work has already started on the job, and the five barges are due for completion by the end of the year.

Mr. Wallace said the hulls would be of steel and the superstructure of wood. Each barge will be 165 feet long, 44 feet broad and 10 1/2 feet deep.

Only One Gun

Austerity Hits Services

Federal austerity measures will affect this year's Remembrance Day services in a small way, an army spokesman said last night.

Instead of the traditional two guns firing the salute at the Cenotaph and two at the Esquimalt Memorial Park there will only be one gun each, said Maj. Charles MacLeod.

Here is what army and navy have planned for the services Sunday.

Navy parade will form up on Wharf Street near Government and start at 10:25 a.m. while 100 men from the Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry and 250 militia men will form up at the Black Ball

Week's Appeal Returns
Off to Good Start

Greater Victoria's United Appeal got off to a good start Monday with $3,000 turned in to the campaign office, reducing the total needed for a successful countdown to $89,690.

To date, $290,310 has been collected in the drive to provide operating funds for 23 health, welfare and family service agencies within the Community Chest.

Residential returns now show a total collection of $31,722 of the target of $70,000.

Meanwhile, Victoria Press

Ltd. employees joined the ranks of other employee groups who have qualified for plaque awards in this year's campaign.

Employees gave $3,252.75, which, along with the company's contribution of $2,500, makes a total donation to the drive of $5,752.75.

San Francisco
Air Control
To Be Studied

Air pollution control in the San Francisco area will be studied by Ald. Geoffrey Edgelow.

He leaves today on a business trip to the California city, but will take time out to study the smoke problem there in search of new ideas and techniques which can be applied in Victoria.

NOT ONLY INDUSTRY

"Industry is not the only offender," said Ald. Edgelow. "Burning waste of all kinds adds to the problem of air pollution. And the bigger a city gets, the more cars it has and so more fumes and waste is let loose into the air we breathe."

Ald. Edgelow, chairman of the city's smoke advisory committee, hinted that new controls on burning of garbage in incinerators may be imposed. These are a source of soot and fly-ash, he said.

MILLS BLAMED

The target of criticism for the smoke nuisance has been borne by mills in the area which burn wood waste. The city has tightened its regulations and mill operators are co-operating by installing new equipment and keeping closer watch on combustion in the burners.

Any other use for the wood waste would be "a natural development for this area," said Ald. Edgelow. But so far none has been found which is economic on a large scale.

He said some California cities have installed plants which turn garbage into a compost-type fertilizer for agricultural and garden use. This has also been done with wood waste, though not on such a large scale as would be required here.

"B.C. Forest Products, alone burns 50 tons of wood waste every day," said Ald. Edgelow.

UNECONOMIC

Means of turning garbage into fertilizer by biological process was carefully studied by the city engineer's department along with other disposal methods some five years ago. It was proven to be uneconomic for Victoria, he said.

The city has since entered a long-term contract for hauling of its garbage at a rate of $1.90 a ton to the Highlands area where it is buried underground.

They will carry on with routine duties but only short overnight leaves were granted the crews.

Mac-Powell Case
Off Till Nov. 20

PORT ALBERNI — MacMillan, Blood & Powell River Ltd. and Local 1-85, International Woodworkers of America, locked in a court action over a one-week stoppage at Somass division here, have agreed to an adjournment until 10 a.m. Nov. 20.

NO CHARGES

Information on charges and counter-charges were laid before Magistrate W. E. MacLeod in magistrate's court here Monday morning, but the charges were not read. Maurice Corbett, Local 1-85 financial secretary, represented the union, and local solicitor George Bodovine, the company. No plea was entered.

The firm is charging 48 boommen members of Local 1-85, the president, Walter Allen, and the local with supporting, encouraging, condoning or engaging in unlawful strike of boommen which limited production at the plant.

WATCHERS

The union's charges, contained in five informations presented to the magistrate, refer to "an illegal lockout" on Aug. 28 to 31 and Sept. 4. About 12 off-shift boommen turned up to watch the proceedings being introduced in the courtroom.

One of the men was reported to have received a speeding ticket on his way to court.

Cash and Drugs Taken
From Pharmacy's Safe

By JACK FRY

Dope addicts are believed responsible for a daring safecracking in a city drugstore during the weekend.

They made off with about $300 cash and a quantity of drugs estimated to be worth up to $500 on the illicit market, from the safe of Fairfield Pharmacy Ltd., 301 Cook Street.

OVERLOOKED

Ironically, after knocking off the dial and punching out a spindle with a sledgehammer to open the door of the waist-high floor safe, the thieves overlooked a large supply of morphine and cocaine in one of the cubicles inside.

Nothing else in the drugstore seemed disturbed.

"It looks like they knew what they were looking for," said Walter E. Carter, who operates the store in partnership with Lorne E. Wakelin.

HAMMER ON FLOOR

Mr. Carter discovered the robbery after opening the store about 8:30 a.m. yesterday. He found a sledgehammer lying on the floor amid papers from the safe, which is in a narrow hallway behind the medicine and drugs dispensary.

City police dusted for fingerprints, and RCMP asked for a list of the missing drugs.

DRUGS TAKEN

Drugs taken from the safe included 175 demerol capsules, 200 demerol tablets, two bottles of demerol solution, four ounces of demerol dolophine, 3 1/2 ounces of chlor-anodyne, five ounces of hypno-bromic compound, 50 lertine tablets, 3 1/2 ounces of tincture of opium and 70 grains of powdered opium.

Wholesale value of the drugs was only $50, but addicts might pay up to $500 to obtain it illegally, Mr. Carter estimated.

HARD TO GET

City police Chief John Blackstock said that drugs "must be getting pretty hard to get" in British Columbia, for an addict to resort to safecracking.

Addicts normally steal merchandise to pay for their supplies.

Whoever broke into the drugstore, carefully placed objects back in order near a rear window, where a bar had been jammed. Only apparent reason for this was that he intended to come back for more.

WINDOW GOING

But carpenters were busy yesterday removing the window and replacing it with studs and a solid wall. The window led out to a rear parking lot off Oxford Street.

Mr. Carter said his partner recalled seeing two rough-looking young men in the store shortly before closing time Saturday, but no description was available.

NO NOISE

Proprietor of Fairfield Jewellery, 313 Cook, who lives in an apartment behind his store by the drugstore parking lot, said he heard nothing Sunday night. Damage to the safe was estimated at $100. The firm has insurance for theft and loss of stock but it was not known yesterday whether there was total coverage.

Bennetts
Away
On Holiday

Premier Bennett and Mrs. Bennett leave today for a brief Palm Springs holiday. The premier said yesterday Mrs. Bennett is making a "good recovery" from the back operation she underwent three months ago in St. Joseph's Hospital. He will return to Victoria in a week. Mrs. Bennett will stay longer.

Full Block

Motor Inn
Doubling
Capacity

The Imperial Inn is to be doubled in size to stretch along Douglas Street for a whole block.

Nicholas North, manager of the 70-room motor hotel, yesterday said plans include increasing the hotel's capacity to between 130 and 150 and installing a dining room and cocktail lounge intended to be attractions in their own right, and a coffee shop.

PLANS NOT FINAL

Plans are not yet final, he said. Actual work on construction of the new section of the hotel "could not begin much before March" and the addition will not be finished for the next tourist season.

The new hotel wing, similar in design to the present one, will extend the hotel from its present location at Douglas and Discovery Streets to the corner of Douglas and Chatham, leaving it rather in the shape of a long, low H standing on Douglas.

CONVENTION ROOMS

It is also planned to include modest convention rooms in the expanded hotel, but their location has not been decided upon.

Also being considered is a new parlor.

The present small dining room will be converted to a new hotel lobby, overlooking the swimming pool, and the ground floor of the new three-story wing will hold a lounge, dining room, terrace overlooking the pool, and adjoining coffee shop.

The present small cocktail lounge may be retained to supplement the big new one, Mr. North said.

Lions to Meet

Ernest Chamberlain will discuss the activities of the B.C. Society for Crippled Children at today's meeting of the Esquimalt Lions Club, 6:30 p.m., at the Old England Inn.

STAFF NOTEBOOK

He May Never Know
What He Didn't WinBy Ted
Shackleford

SO HOLLY: We have it on very good authority that when the King Fisherman draw was held the other day to find out who had won that eight-day, all-expenses-paid trip to Japan which was the major prize, the first name drawn was that of a man who is not a Colonial subscriber. As this is one of the subscribers of this column, his name was discarded and the next name drawn was that of Mrs. Ed Lohmeyer, who is a subscriber. There's one thing about it: the unlucky non-subscriber probably will never see this item!

BRIDGE BOON: We've heard a lot of happy comment from drivers since someone at city hall increased the speed limit over the Johnson Street Bridge. It used to be 15 miles an hour down to second gear and grind along. Now it is 20 miles an hour and drivers can enjoy 20 top gear. Makes a big difference!

TOO RIGHT: Haven't heard any complaints from Magistrate William Ocker, of course, but it must be hard on him to preside in Saanich's new courtroom—he has to face the rear wall with floor-to-ceiling windows. At least the city's shabby courtroom has the windows behind the magistrate's chair.

AUTOMATION: City welfare officer Bill Brown has a different slant on the problem of automation—he agrees it will hit workers in industry but contends that it will have a lot greater effect on white collar workers with file clerks and others in similar jobs being hardest hit.

BEHIND IN IT: That the automatic billing systems in use now by some firms tend to bear him out.

NOT JOE: Since we ran the item about the insurance salesman who tells strangers he is a retired bank manager and offers to draw up a will for them as his good deed for the day—and then casually asks if they have insurance—former bank manager, and now insurance man, Joe Bowe, 234 Midway Ave., has been getting needles from friends. Honest, fellows, it isn't Joe.
